Bitter Mayoralty Campaign in New York Ends

BULLETIN.
NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Eugene D. Wood, the politician sought by District Attorney Whitman as a witness today at the John Doe investigation into the charges of Tammany corruption made by John A. Hennessy, could not be found this afternoon. Friends said he was out of town.

Hennessy, chief campaigner against Tammany Hall in the municipal campaign, testified last week that it was Wood who gave him most of the material for his charges.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—New York City's bitter mayoralty campaign entered on its last day today. Closing speeches of candidates will be made tonight and tomorrow voters will decide whether Edward E. McCall, Tammany or John Purroy Mitchel, the fusion nominee, shall be mayor.

William Sulzer, deposed governor, seeking to return to the Assembly as a Progressive, published today letters and telegrams purporting to show that Mitchel ordered to get Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany leader, to stop the impeachment trial, provided Sulzer would endorse McCall's candidacy for mayor and stop the inquiries looking to the exposure of Tammany corruption.

The letters and messages in question bear the purported signature of Fred Feigl, one of McCall's campaign managers.

ACTIVITY AGAINST SULZER.
There was renewed talk today that Sulzer's enemies would seek his indictment in Albany county for subornation of perjury in connection with alleged attempts to suppress testimony before the high court of impeachment.

WARDEN TO QUIT SAN QUENTIN

J. E. Hoyle to Lay Down Position; On Way to San Francisco

Expected to Make a Statement About Determination

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—John E. Hoyle, warden of San Quentin, left early this morning to come to San Francisco, and is expected to make a statement later about his contemplated resignation. President Duffy, of the board of prison directors, left here for San Jose early this morning to try a case there. Several of the other directors expressed great surprise that Hoyle should contemplate resigning. General Tracy L. Ford had not heard of it until today.

"I had not the slightest intimation that Warden Hoyle contemplated resigning," he explained; "he has always been a most intimate friend of President Duffy, and I have heard Governor Johnson speak well of him. This must be a personal matter between Hoyle and Duffy. I have not the slightest idea who would be his successor. We have considered no one and it was my belief that Hoyle would remain. It is true that there was some difference among the prison directors as to the vote and censuring Captain Ellis regarding discipline at the prison but that is as far as the matter went."

WATER CO. RECOVERS TAXES

Alameda County Loses Spring Valley Suit for $88,000

Assessments 1911-12 and 1912-13 Must Be Refunded

Through a decision rendered this morning by Superior Judges W. S. Wells, W. H. Waste and E. J. Brown, sitting en banc in the case of the Spring Valley Water Company against the County of Alameda, the county will have to repay $88,000 collected in taxes on riparian rights and land holdings belonging to the water company in Washington and Pleasanton townships being the assessments for the years 1911-12 and 1912-13. The jurists held that the assessments were void on the face of the proposition in that there had been a double assessment.

District Attorney Hynes, who with Deputy Walter J. Burpee, defended the suit, stated that an appeal would not be taken. According to Deputy Burpee, the money is now in the hands of the county treasurer where it has been held for many months upon advice of the district attorney that the suits in all probability would go against the county.

History of Assessment

The assessment for the year 1911-12 was made by former County Assessor Henry P. Dutton. It covered in blanket the entire holdings of the water company, including the riparian rights along Alameda creek. The company contended that the assessment was illegal in that both the land and the riparian rights thereto could not be assessed.

Uncle Sam's Agent Didn't Trouble Her Very Much

"The lady ran upon a tack; it caused no perturbation. For part of her was genuine, but some was imitation."

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—And because of the imitation the tack didn't make any impression. The new importation laws enacted the part of the tack in the case of Miss Anna Morgan, and the imitation part in this case, according to at least, the heiress, was an agrette feather which was real.

The daughter of the late J. Pierpont Morgan came ashore from Europe a short time ago, loaded with trunks containing silks, satins and other finery. She had had many adventures abroad. She took tea with the Infanta Eulalia, aunt of King Alfonso of Spain, saw the Kaiser's mustache and finally sailed back on the Imperator.

Among her baggage was a beautiful agrette. The officer of the customs saw and delicately informed the heiress that Uncle Sam—well, he didn't like these feathers, and that they should be confiscated.

"Well," said the heiress, "you know it isn't a really, truly agrette. It's only an imitation."

As a result two persons are dead, three fatally injured and another seriously hurt.

The storehouse, a new brick building, was filled with bales of rags and tobacco. Michael Greenburg, its owner, said the building was dynamited, but firemen and police found no evidence of an explosion, and declared that faulty construction probably caused the collapse.

PAPERS IN POSSESSION VALUABLE

A. M. Thompson, Former State Union Head, Disappears

Left Home Announcing He Would Visit San Jose

JOSE

MYSTERY enshrouds the disappearance of A. M. Thompson, former president of the State Federation of Labor and well-known in labor and political circles throughout the State, who left his home at 1314 Filbert street early Tuesday morning and has not been locally seen or heard from since.

It was the original intention of Thompson to go to San Jose, where he intended to transact some business with Congressman E. A. Hayes of that place. Important negotiations believed to have been in connection with valuable California oil lands, with the Noyes Ranch Oil Company of San Francisco and Congressman Hayes as principals and with Thompson acting as representative of the oil company, were to have been consummated upon Thompson's arrival at San Jose, and for this purpose Thompson carried with him valuable documents.

It is understood that these papers were of great importance, not only to the two principals mentioned, but also to several other parties. The fact that Thompson was not inclined to the use of intoxicants and that he carried but enough money on his person to make the round trip to San Jose, before the money that he had been spirited away for the purpose of breaking off the negotiations between the San Francisco oil magnates and the San Jose Congressman.

HOPEFUL ABOUT DEAL

According to Mrs. Thompson, wife of the missing man, her husband was in the best of spirits when he left home Saturday morning for San Jose. "This deal is almost as good as closed," he told his wife, "and is one of the biggest transactions I have pulled off in many a day."

"He was very cautious in handling a matter, which he declared contained papers of vital importance," said Mrs. Thompson this morning. "I had to be mighty careful of these," he said to me, "for if they got into other hands they might do great harm." However, he did not seem to be very disturbed over the chance of their being lost, and while he left he remarked that he would be home not later than Thursday.

HELD IMPORTANT POSITION

Thompson was formerly president of the State Federation of Labor. He was also at one time business agent of the Central Labor Council of Alameda county and was a deputy assessor under Henry P. Dalton until the latter's removal from office. He is 52 years of age, weighs 155 pounds and is 5 feet 3 inches in height. At the time of his disappearance he was attired in a gray suit and gray overcoat and wore a black derby hat. His hair is light red, streaked with gray, while his mustache is of the same color.

The police of the entire state are searching for Thompson, but up to a late hour today their efforts had been ineffectual. The police advance the theories that either Thompson has become the victim of foul play, or has become suddenly demented and is wandering about. However, the latter theory is not given much consideration.

PLANNED HAPPY EVENTS

"I don't understand Mr. Thompson's disappearance," sobbed Mrs. Thompson this morning. "We had planned several events for the 15th of this month and Mr. Thompson fun before he left laughingly remarked that he'd be ready for the big time."

Thompson never arrived at San Jose. He intended to leave on the Southern Pacific train at First and Broadway shortly after 9 o'clock Tuesday.

INDIANAPOLIS CAR SYSTEM STILL TIED

Crowds Orderly; Guards to Patrol Streets; Service Is Tied Up

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 3.—Street car service, which has been tied up since Friday night by the strike of the employees of the Indianapolis Traction and Terminal company, was not resumed today. Crowds of strikers and sympathizers flocked near the Louisiana street barns. The crowds were orderly.

Bankers, merchants and professional men are to guard the streets tonight in order to let the police devote their full time to the prevention of destruction to street car property. Sheriff Portus served a summons on 200 representative businessmen this morning ordering them to report for guard duty as deputies later in the day.

Most of the factories were short-handed owing to the inability of employees to reach their places of business.

Robert I. Todd, president, and John J. Mahoney, superintendent of the street car company, and Chief of Police Hyland, were attacked by a crowd of strikers and sympathizers this afternoon but were not seriously injured.

PATIENT IN HOSPITAL SUICIDE

Wealthy Man Sends Nurse Away, Cuts Throat

Isaac Anderson, Locomotor Ataxia Sufferer, Ends Life.

Sending his male nurse from the room on a trivial errand at 5 o'clock this morning, Isaac Anderson, a retired rancher, man of wealth and member of the Union League club, committed suicide at the St. Francis hospital.

Anderson had been suffering from locomotor ataxia and had been a patient at the hospital for about a month. He was watching over him when he awoke. He talked casually for a few moments and then declared that he was hungry. Sheldon asked him what he wanted and the patient replied that some beef tea would just suit him. The nurse was gone just three minutes and returned to find Anderson with his throat cut from ear to ear. He had slashed himself with a small penknife, used for manicuring his nails. The house physician was called in, but nothing could be done to save the man's life.

Anderson had large interests in Oroville where he was associated in business with Dr. Clyde Payne, a prominent local dentist. "I did not notice anything strange about Mr. Anderson," said Sheldon. "He had never threatened suicide." Anderson was 61 years old. He resided at the Union League club during his frequent trips to San Francisco and was well known in this city.

PASTOR EXPLAINS BIBLICAL 'HELL'

London Divine Addresses Porter Hall Audience On Purport of Scripture.

A good-sized audience assembled in Porter Hall last evening to hear Pastor E. D. Sexton of London, England, speak on the "Hell" of the Bible. There was the closest of attention during the hour that the speaker considered his subject, which he said has been greatly misunderstood. He stated that he had no startling remarks or any sensational announcements to make, only that he intended to take the question up from the Scriptural standpoint. Many Bible quotations were used during the discourse. Among other points, the pastor declared that the dead are dead, just as the Bible says they are; that all are asleep in the state of death. The tomb, the Bible "hell," and that they are to await God's due time when they shall bring them all forth in the resurrection, both the just and the unjust. The willing and the obedient shall have everlasting life, but the willfully wicked shall be destroyed in the "second death." The speaker said that the word "hell" as found in the Bible, comes from the Hebrew word "Sheol," and that these words have also been rendered grave and pit, the place or condition where all the millions of Adam's race have been since they died. None have ascended into heaven or descended into eternal torment for death is the wages of sin. "No man has ascended up into heaven, but he that came down from heaven, even the Son of Man."

H. Jones, president of the Weber Club and Mayor of Ogden. The explosion occurred on Tuesday and Fred G. Taylor, general superintendent of the Amalgamated Sugar Company.

Since April prominent residents of Ogden have been receiving blackmail letters and large amounts were given by Thomas D. Dee and Mrs. Ralph E. Bristol to these writers for fear.

For several months the Eccles homes, several in number, have been under guard, but the private detectives were withdrawn two days ago.

Leroy Eccles considers that the dynamiting was simply a warning of further efforts of the blackmailers. The damage was from $5000 to $3000.

PHANTOM SHIP SAILED AND SAILED

Not a Soul in Sight On Deck or Bridge, Says Mariner.

Mysterious Vessel Almost Collides With Four-Master.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Although the day of the sailing ship is nearly over there lies at a Brooklyn dock today a four masted bark just in with sel is the Annie M. Reid and according to her master, Captain Durkee, the vessel in her course through the Seven Seas, nearly had a collision with a "phantom ship" and in a run south of the Cape of Good Hope logged the remarkable record of 370 miles a day for four days in succession.

The bark logged 10,000 miles in 36 days. At dusk one day in the midst of a calm a sudden squall came up, carrying down several of the sails and at the same time a large tramp steamer, like a phantom, was sighted coming down on the bark. Although Captain Durkee burned blue lights and gave other signals there was no answer from the strange ship.

NOT A SOUL IN SIGHT. Captain Durkee said: "There was not a living soul on the deck or bridge and there was nobody on the lookout. We did what we could to avert a collision and by quick work we passed under full sail barely a biscuit's toss away."

On the way from Carthage to Adelaide Captain Durkee turned his hands to chipping the rust from the skin of the steel winged ship. One of the smallest lads on the bark chipped so hard with his pick down in the fore peak that he scraped a hole through the plate and the Atlantic cables gushing in so furiously that the men were kept at the pumps nearly for four hours a day until the ship reached port and was repaired.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Barrett O'Hara, lieutenant-governor of Illinois, is a hobo. It became known yesterday when E. Jeff Davis, president of the National Hobo Union, reported the fact in an address at a meeting of the Chicago Federation of Labor. Later O'Hara admitted it and announced that he is proud of the connection.

"I met the lieutenant-governor at a ball," said the king of the hoboes, "and he told me that once he had been down and out. I told him that entitled him to membership and I pledged him. "Yes, I joined the hoboes," said Lieutenant-Governor O'Hara. "I took the oath, although I never expect to ride in a side-door Pullman."

LOST OAKLAND GIRL IS FOUND

Little Lucile Lawrence, Who Wandered From Home Worn Out From Exposure.

More like a bedraggled wood-nymph than a human child, wet, hungry and exhausted, yet still trying to elude her wandering searchers, seventeen-year-old Lucile Lawrence was found yesterday by a fathering into her father's arms that she left on Friday.

The light romping costume of bathing shirt and bloomers, stockings, sandals, shoes and middy blouse she wore when she left, half in rags from the clutch of tearing branches, clung to a shivering form when her father, after a six-hour search, took his daughter in his arms and carried her back to warmth and comfort.

No explanation would the girl give. She explained neither her sudden flight into the woods nor her fawn-like desire to hide from the people she knew were looking for her.

Friday and Saturday night she spent in deserted cabins erected by Peoples Water Company employees when the system was being installed. There she found scant shelter from the rain and cold and huddled into a corner covered by the remnants of molded blankets left by original occupants years ago.

INCLINED TO ERRATIC PERIODS. The girl, with her grandmother, Mrs. Nellie J. Lawrence, went to the country home on Wednesday. The girl was out of health and inclined to erratic periods, caused by long years of solitude since the death of her mother. It was for this reason that her father removed her from school at Modesto two weeks ago. It was for the same reason that he sent her to the Modesto school last Wednesday.

Alvin Hauschild found the clue which finally led to the girl's discovery. He came upon the footprints left by the sandals worn by Miss Lawrence. They led in all directions over the hills, but they led to no one place. The trail was confused, although the footprints were obviously made after the rain stopped early this morning.

DODGES INTO BUSHES. The posse again split up, each man taking one of the trails. Harry Hauschild, who was scouting about the brow of a hill near the bungalow, spied the girl a fourth of a mile from him. He shouted at her and she dodged into a clump of bushes. He ran to the spot, but she had disappeared.

Alvin Hauschild, who was on a horse, saw the girl five minutes later. She was almost half a mile from where his brother had seen her. She had been running and was standing, exhausted. She did not see the youth and he wheeled his horse and returned to the main body of searchers. Dr. Lawrence followed him. When he saw his daughter he gave a shout of joy. She looked up, but did not move. She tottered and fell as he came up to her and fainted in his arms.

Chinese Doctors Make Special $4 Offer to Discouraged Sufferers

To Convince, Doctors Chan & Kong offer a Week's Trial Treatment For Less Than Herbs Cost

To prove to all sufferers that the Chinese system of medicine will do more in giving quick relief and permanent cures than any other medical science (so-called) which permits the use of poisons, Doctors Chan and Kong will this week give a full seven days' treatment for the sum of $4.00. This amount is not enough to pay for the herbs used, but as in that time they can demonstrate what they can do in even the most desperate never use poisons, believing that if poisons will breakdown strong constitutions they will do great harm to people run down and weakened by sickness.

Call at once and take advantage of this offer. What has been done for others can be done for you. Here are a few who have been cured. Original letters and hundreds of others waiting your inspection at the offices of Doctors Chan and Kong, 901 Clay street, Oakland.

The patient will be required to call every day to take their herbs and to put himself under the orders of the doctors, as the doctors do not wish to put their time at the disposal of any but those who are earnestly seeking health.

The herbs used are in all cases included in the cost; that is, $4.00 pays for everything and there are no extras. These herbs have a food value in addition to their wonderful soothing and curative powers, and are entirely different from the medicines in common use in America. The Chinese

ITALIAN ELECTION PLEASES POPE

Satisfaction Expressed at the Election of Six More Catholic Deputies.

ROME, Nov. 3.—It was said at the Vatican this morning that the Pope had expressed satisfaction at the election of six more Catholic deputies in the second ballot of the Italian general elections. He was pleased at the fact that the Catholic vote had been in control of the municipality for so long a time.

The defeat of the former priest, Father Romolo Murri, leader of the Catholic Democrats, was noted with interest. Mayor Nathan, of Rome, will shortly convene a meeting of the assembly of the city at which it is expected he will present his resignation. As a municipal election is to take place in June next year it is assumed that the government will in the interim appoint a royal commissioner.

DUVALL FAMILY HEIRLOOMS TAKEN

Heiress, Once Driven From Home, Returns to Claim Relics.

LIVERMORE, Nov. 3.—Accompanied by her husband, Mrs. J. H. It was the first time since her expulsion from her childhood home that she had cast eyes on the place, her experiences

INFIRMARY INMATE IS MISSING HEIR

Emmett Stanley of Atlanta, Georgia, Found in San Leandro by Mayor Gill.

SAN LEANDRO, Nov. 3.—Search for a lost heir for whom large property is awaiting in the East has been successfully concluded by Mayor J. J. Gill of San Leandro. Through close investigations Mayor Gill located Emmett Stanley of Atlanta, Georgia, after Stanley had been lost sight of for several years by his relatives. The

When Duvall died and his estate was turned over to the public administrator, Dr. H. B. Mehrmann, for settlement, the county sold a portion of the movable property, but in anticipation of the time when the missing heir might be located, he reserved many of the heirlooms and valuable library and other things which he believed she might wish to keep. After leaving over the place, searching the house from cellar to garret, and spending several hours included in the rooms she and her mother and father had occupied, Mrs. Williamsen had set aside for her a few pieces of ancient silverware and bric-a-brac that she had cherished in days gone by and ordered everything sold at public sale.

TO SELL MOVABLE PROPERTY. The land and buildings will not be sold until next spring, but a sale of all remaining movable property will be held immediately. Mrs. Williamsen and her husband will return to their home in Chicago within a few days with some $50,000 which has already been realized from the settlement of the estate.

As Mrs. Duvall, only child of Alexander Duvall, soldier of fortune, adventurer and owner of the Chateau Bellevue vineyard and winery, Mrs. Williamsen was driven from home by her father when she married Thaddeus Stevens against her father's wish. She soon divorced Stevens and was lost to the knowledge of her friends and family for fifteen years. When her father died last spring without leaving any will, a nationwide search was instituted for the daughter, and she was located in Chicago as the wife of J. H. Williamsen, an attorney, and came at once to California to claim the estate which is variously estimated at between $50,000 and $250,000. Valuable securities, London Lancia cars, not to mention the total value of the Duvall fortune is not known.

DIVIDED OVER STREET PAVING

Two Factions Formed On Account of Melrose Improvement.

MELROSE, Nov. 3.—A misunderstanding, which is now on the way towards satisfactory settlement, in regard to street improvement, has created two factions in Melrose. One faction has circulated a petition calling for the improvement of a portion of East Fourteenth street, while another section of the community sent out an opposition petition against the improvement of the street. Residents in the district were bombarded for and against improvement with literature, and things up to the present have the appearance of developing into a struggle between two strong sections of the community.

Melrose Business Men's Association espoused the cause of those who sought street improvement and the petition in favor of this work has been circulated, broadcast and is said to be making progress. The opposition petition was also circulated. That there should have been opposition to the improvement was stated today to have been due to a misunderstanding. While it was proposed to have East Fourteenth street relaid from High street to Fifteenth avenue, residents beyond Fifteenth avenue had an idea that the improvement work was to take in their portion of the street up to Fifteenth avenue. They were opposed to this step and at once started opposition. Just when things were beginning to warm between the two factions an explanation that only up to Fifteenth avenue is to be relaid has apparently proved satisfactory to the opposition and those who have circulated the petition calling for the street work are confident that the majority of the residents will favor the improvement.

CHRISTMAS TREE HOTEL ATTRACTION

The Hotel Oakland will have a Christmas tree this Christmas. Preparations are now being made for one of the largest affairs of the kind ever seen in Oakland. The little ones at the hotel are to be well taken care of by Santa Claus this year. Pastry Chef Vines is now hard at work preparing plans for the Christmas cake. A huge mass of confectionery, which only the artist from Paris knows how to make, will be seen at the celebration.

Carol singers from St. John's church will wander through the hotel at midnight Christmas eve, singing the hymns which have from times of long ago pealed forth to announce the coming of the greatest of holidays. Many of the hotel guests will be present to please the little ones and an elaborate celebration has been promised.

The first thing to do, if you suffer from Rheumatism or Lumbago, is to rob the aching parts with Omega Oil, then soak a piece of flannel with the oil, lay it over the place that hurts and cover with a piece of clean cloth. Who Are Blocking License Reform?

Last Friday the new liquor ordinance after being smoothed out and certain defects eliminated, was introduced in the Council and laid over for a week. There was no action and no discussion. It was given out that hearings would be given all parties interested when the ordinance was again taken up. Apparently it is purposed to once more go over ground that has been already gone over three or four times and fritter away a lot of time in futile discussion as a pretext for delaying action.

Patience has ceased to be a virtue. It has been worn out by procrastination and indirection. The conviction has been forced on the public mind that certain members of the Council are mere agents of the saloons in this business. They are striving to prevent anything being done. It is not the public welfare, but the liquor interests they are serving. All their objections and amendments are echoes from the saloons. It is the saloons, and the most disreputable of the saloons at that, they are engaged in protecting.

While obstructing the passage of the ordinance they are trying to pull its teeth and render it innocuous if not inoperative—a mere shadow and pretense of reform. They have hoped that public sentiment would become tired out and cease to urge reforms that are obstinately resisted and staved off on one pretext or another. It is to the saloons, not the people, that these men are giving their service. All their utterances indicate that they regard themselves as representatives of the liquor interest and are legislating for the benefit of the saloons.

But these officials are mistaken in the public temper in supposing that the people can be tired out by inaction, procrastination and subterfuge. The people will not allow themselves to be played with much longer. They are determined to have action—action that means something worth while. If they are compelled to resort to the initiative to sweep away obstruction, they will get rid of obstructionists at the same time. They will not permit agents of the saloons to administer laws to restrict and better regulate the liquor traffic.

Furthermore, the scope and purpose of the reform demanded by the Public Welfare League will not be abated one jot. The number of saloons must be reduced to two hundred, the license raised to $1000 a year and all saloons driven out of the residence districts; and the reduction must not take place later than July 1, 1914. For four months this formulated plan of license readjustment has been before the Council. It has been viewed and discussed from every angle and standpoint. There is nothing new to discuss or consider. We find today the same element in opposition.

Every concession made by the Public Welfare League has been met with a demand for fresh concessions. The saloons are resisting reform of the liquor traffic at all points, and in reality are seeking to have Oakland made a wide-open town instead of consenting to a better regulation of the whisky business. It is notorious that the liquor interests will spend money lavishly to block reform, and is not particular how the money is spent. Agents of the liquor traffic have been threatening political vengeance on members of the Council who dare vote in accordance with the wishes of the people and the canons of decency. At the same time the solid support of the liquor men is promised officials as a reward for defying public opinion.

That is how the situation stands today. The issue is between the home and the saloon. Should the saloon prove stronger with the Council, the home will compel a show of hands at the polls, and in that event obstructionists will have to go with obstruction.

The time for farcical hearings has passed. Their purpose is only too clearly understood. Delay in the hope of wearing down the advocates of license reform is the sole purpose. It is a policy dictated by the saloons. Every member is as well qualified to vote tomorrow on the ordinance as he ever will be. The efforts made to stave off and prevent action are made by opponents of the ordinance. In the last analysis the ordinance is being held up at the instance of the Royal Arch.

The Influence of Suggestion.

The influence of suggestion on the mania for homicide is illustrated by several recent occurrences in Oakland and San Francisco. The killing of her husband by Mrs. Drown bears a marked similarity to the slaying of De Valle by his wife. Perhaps the imitation was unconscious, but it nevertheless bears the impress of being suggested. Probably Mrs. De Valle's deed developed an inchoate feeling in Mrs. Drown's mind that took the form of resolution when the De Valle uxoricide was bruited in the public prints.

The case of Leah Alexander in San Francisco follows in general outline the shooting of R. M. Widney by Vivien Lyons. It indicates the operation of involuntary suggestion on the subconscious mind. One woman shoots a man against whom she cherishes a grievance. Another woman having a similar grievance does likewise. It is imitation in obedience to suggestion.

We see the same thing illustrated in cases of suicide. The newspapers print the story of a suicide committed in some peculiar way or under sensational circumstances, and straightway there are other suicides resembling the first, showing the influence of suggestion.

This is a fact that is not taken into consideration by people who think that moral lessons are taught by such plays as "The Lure" and "The Traffic." The effect is the precise reverse of good. If suggestion prompts people to kill themselves and others, why should it not prompt persons morbidly inclined to do things less tragic but equally bizarre. It does, in fact. Seeing brothel life depicted on the stage engenders a desire to see what it is like in real life; also a longing to imitate the actors in such dramas.

Mrs. Pankhurst now contends that her admission into the United States gives her the right to circulate literature so frankly indecent that its circulation was prohibited in England. She brought over editions of the Suffragette containing articles dealing with sex questions which Anthony Comstock and the police officials declare come under the head of obscene literature. She has put these publications on sale by having young women brought over from England peddle them. The sale has been stopped by the authorities and freedom in the person of Mrs. Pankhurst shrieks as it did when Kosciusko fell.

"Is the smell of liquor the test of Democracy?" asks the Nashville Tennessean. It may be the test of Democracy in some States, but it is not the test of good citizenship anywhere. Horace Greeley once said the two cardinal tenets of Democracy were "love rum and hate niggers," and the Democrats pleaded guilty to the indictment by nominating Horace for President. But times have changed since then. The Democrats have elected a total abstainer to the Presidency, and his cabinet is strongly tainted with teetotalism. Everywhere the smell of whisky is being out of fashion as the perfume of politics, although some of the people in Oakland seem to think the people spoken of in the Declaration of Independence and the National Constitution is to be limited to those exclusively those engaged in the sale and consumption of intoxicants. Such persons stand upon Brother Jonathan's platform that "this man do move" while the earth stands still. They have yet to learn that the liquor business can be conducted in an orderly and decent manner. It may perhaps be necessary to send a few more missionaries to teach them this much.

Contradictions of Trade.

The cross and counter-currents of trade are often confusing and present phases so contradictory that one is perplexed to draw general conclusions without inquiring into the special reasons for each movement.

During the tariff debate one Senator opposed to reducing the tariff on butter cited government reports showing that a large quantity of butter was annually imported from Canada to the United States, from which he argued that lowering the import duty would greatly injure the American dairy industry.

So it looked till somebody examined further. Then it transpired that a much larger quantity of butter is shipped from the United States into Canada than comes here from Canada. Each country is both an exporter and an importer of the same product. Canada is a good dairy country, but the winters there are very severe. In the summer when butter is cheap Canada ships butter to the United States. In winter when butter is dear and the Canadian pastures are blanketed by deep snows, the United States ships butter to Canada. So there's a substantial reason for the contradiction.

A few days ago the White Star liner Baltic reached New York with a large consignment of refrigerated beef from Argentina on board. This beef had been shipped to Liverpool from Buenos Aires and brought thence to New York. Strange to say, the bulk of the Argentine beef was consigned to Swift & Company, the Chicago meat-packers.

As the Baltic was coming through the Narrows she passed an Atlantic Transport liner bound for Liverpool carrying 200 head of American beef cattle to England. Those cattle were shipped from Chicago. Here we have the anomaly of America shipping cattle on the hoof to Liverpool while importing beef in cold storage from Argentina via Liverpool.

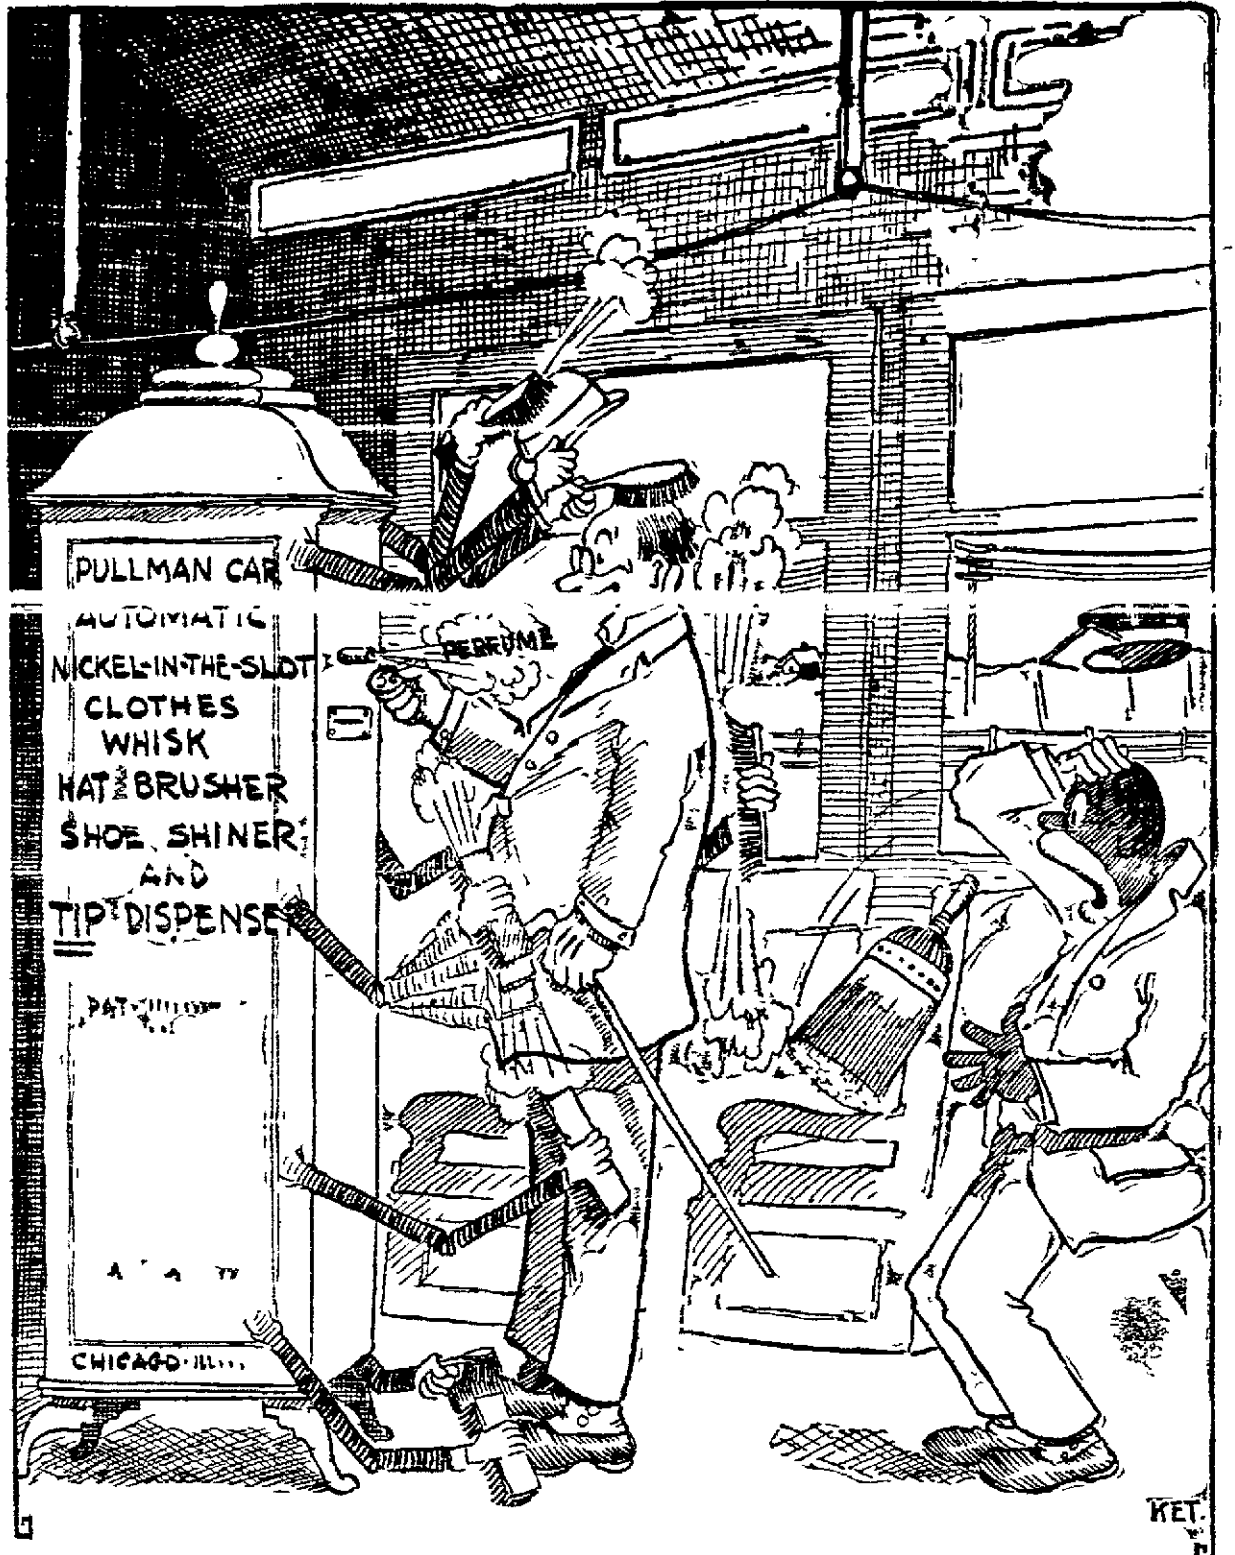

If one studied only the outgoing trade returns he would form an opinion diametrically opposite to a conclusion drawn from an exclusive study of import figures. Much of the opposing clash of opinion in tariff debates is due to a partial and one-sided study of trade movements; also to failure to examine the underlying causes for apparent contradictions which are not contradictions at all when understood.

The other day one hundred tons of butter arrived in San Francisco from New Zealand. The same day the wholesale price of butter went up a cent a pound. Without looking at the market reports some would say bringing butter from the Antipodes was injuring the home butter makers. Others noting the contemporaneous rise in the price of butter would say that reducing the tariff on foreign butter does not affect the price of butter to the consumer. Yet it does, and paradoxically has little effect on the prices domestic producers receive for their butter. The price of butter always advances at this season of the year. But for the New Zealand shipment, the price of butter would have gone up two or three cents a pound. The depression due to foreign competition is there, although not perceptible to the casual observer.

But why does it not materially affect the domestic producer? one will naturally ask.

Because the stock of butter on hand is mainly held by dealers in cold storage. It has been bought or contracted for months ago for the season of shortage that inevitably occurs each year. In the main the producers have parted with their product and are not affected, save in a few instances, by the rise and fall of prices. When the injury to the producer is being complained of, be sure it is not the voice of the middleman and the speculator that you hear. He is ready to take either the side of the producer or consumer, but what the middleman is always fighting for is a condition that will best enable him to get between the producer and consumer and cinch each by turns.

While free competition and open markets may not appreciably lower existing prices, they prevent prices being forced up and monopolistic conditions being created. Shipping beef to England is no argument against importing beef from Argentina. Reciprocal trade is a good thing, and free competition is a better.

On Fourth avenue Friday night a man on foot was knocked down and badly injured by a motor car. His leg was broken and he was hurt otherwise so seriously that he lay for some time unconscious in the rain. The driver of the car sped on without stopping to offer assistance or to inquire how badly the man was hurt. The incident is typical. Recklessness begets inhumanity and cowardice. We do not offer any opinion as to who was responsible for the accident, but we do not hesitate to say that when a man in an automobile runs a pedestrian down and flies away to escape detection he thereby creates the presumption that he was at fault. Aside from that, he shows himself to be heartless and cowardly. It was criminal to leave a smashed and broken man lying in the rain. It is a crime that should be severely punished by law. One way to stop this kind of thing would be for the Legislature to pass an act forbidding any man who runs another person down and does not stop to give him name or offer assistance to set up the plea of contributory negligence if sued for damages. If the law should treat flight as proof of culpability in cases of accident there would be fewer incidents to record of the character of the one on Fourth avenue. The man who ran away deserves to be lashed through the town at a cart's tail.

And, perhaps I'd better mention, so are

The Dutch are highland flinging,
The Scots are buck and winging,
And the German hop is hopped in staid

The generations that follow the immigrants are Americanized and do not have large families, but the change in the racial stock of the country must be very great if not very important. It is noticeable in the cities and in the country also. Forty years ago Chicago was a city of American stock with the principal additions from Germany, Ireland and the Scandinavian countries. It has taken in many foreign nationalities since then and the percentage of persons of remote American ancestry must have greatly decreased. There are country districts in which the American farming communities have disappeared to give way to people from north, central and southern Europe. In certain places one people will be predominant, but taking the country as a whole there is great variety.

MOTOR CONTEST THAT HAS SET COAST AGOG IS ON

AUTOS OFF IN BIG RACE TO PHOENIX

Great Crowds Witness Start of Desert Classic at 5:30 This Morning.

Cars Dash Away on 574.4-Mile Course to Arizona; 23 Entries.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 3.—Barney Oldfield in a big Simplex smashed the best previous road race record between Los Angeles and San Diego this morning in the Los Angeles-Phoenix-San Diego Exposition Race by forty-one minutes, making the distance of 130.4 miles in two hours and 39 minutes. His average was slightly better than a mile in one minute and twelve seconds. Twelve of the twenty-three cars started from Los Angeles this morning broke the best previous record of three hours and twenty minutes.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—Crack! went a pistol shot on the southeastern city limits at daybreak and Cadillac No. 1, driven by Charles Soules, snorted its way southward on the Whittier road, the first car to get away in the sixth annual Los Angeles-to-Phoenix automobile race.

Two minutes later another shot started the Simplex No. 2, with W. H. Carlson at the wheel, on the road scented with gasoline from Soules' car. Twenty-one more cracks from the pistol in the hand of Starter George Adair and all of the twenty-three entries in the great contest, whose course stretches over city thoroughfares, desert sands and mountain roads were dashing along in their tollsome grind.

GREAT CROWDS SEE START.

Great crowds gathered to see the start of the desert classic. The early hour of 5:30 had no terrors for the automobile fans who peered eagerly through the mixture of morning fog and gasoline smoke to see the racing cars dash away on the 574.4-mile course to the Arizona capital. Where the contest will end, the car with Governor George W. P. Hunt acting as official referee of the close.

Despite the hour extra street car service was provided for the hundreds who wanted to see the start and fully an hour before the spasm of the first car headed the crowd of the pilot the starting point was thick with fans, police, racers, drivers, mechanics and owners of the cars entered.

By the time the last car had vanished in the fog down the county road the first was believed to have left Santa Ana far behind and to have swung into a steady mile-a-minute gallop toward Oceanside, the first checkpoint, 87 miles away.

REMAINDER OF COURSE.

From Oceanside the course, by checking stations, led to La Jolla, San Marcos, Escondido, El Centro, Imperial, Brawley, Blackwell, Yuma, Castle Dome, Middle Wells and then the finish at the Phoenix fair grounds.

Starting on an almost perfect boulevard, no bar to speed was expected until the mountains east of San Diego were reached, while the really heart-breaking part of the race was the long stretch of sand to be crossed in reaching Yuma and the night control. There the cars will pass the night, starting again in the morning on the second day of the race, which will end official at 6 o'clock tomorrow night.

Most of the race followers believed that the event would repeat the history in that the race always has been won between Los Angeles and Yuma. The first car into Yuma has always been the first car into Phoenix and it was believed that the automobile which most speedily covered the sands of Imperial county would first reach the Arizona capital.

Six prizes, aggregating $9500, are offered. They are graded from $3500 down to $500. The entries were:

1. Cadillac, Charles Soules. 2. Simplex, W. H. Carlson. 3. Cadillac, Harry Ham driver. 4. Cadillac, Olin Davis driver. 5. Simplex, W. H. Carlson driver. 6. Simplex, W. H. Carlson driver. 7. DROWN CASE IS SET FOR TOMORROW

Confessed Slayer of Husband to Face Lower Court.

District Attorney Hynes Will Appear At Preliminary Examination.

At the request of District Attorney W. H. Hynes, who wishes to assume personal charge of the prosecution, the case of Mrs. Milla Drown, charged with the murder of her husband, Archer C. Drown, was continued by Judge Samuel today till tomorrow morning, when the preliminary examination will be commenced. The continuance was by stipulation between District Attorney Hynes and A. L. Frick, attorney for the defendant.

In appearing in person at the hearing before the inferior court, Hynes is breaking the precedents of his office, as the prosecution heretofore at the preliminary hearings has been invariably conducted by a deputy from the office. Hynes announced today that he wished to conduct the case from first to last, as it is considered one that will be decided on fine points of evidence.

Mrs. Drown has confessed that she shot her husband in his bed at the hotel Drown home in Rand avenue a week ago Friday morning. The alleged murder was not discovered until twenty-four hours later, when Mrs. Drown had confessed the killing to a brother of the deceased. The defense will base its plea to a large extent upon mental derangement from which Mrs. Drown is alleged to have suffered for the past two years since the death of her mother.

VALUABLE FIRE IN FURNACE OF SCHOOL

Million-Dollars in Bonds Will Go Up in Smoke Tomorrow

Municipal bonds worth $1,000,000 will be destroyed by city officials tomorrow afternoon. Arrangements have been made by Commissioners of Finance and Revenue John Forrest to have the bonds incinerated in the furnace in the Oakland High School.

The bonds are those cancelled by the league of the harbor, city hall, auditorium and school bonds at a higher rate of interest. The city commissioners pledged themselves when the campaign was on for the rescue of the bonds at a higher rate of interest than when the bonds were first issued. A number of the old bonds would be destroyed.

The Council passed a resolution last week directing Commissioner Forrest to have the bonds destroyed. City Commissioners, the City Clerk and other officials will witness the formal burning of the bonds.

HARVESTER CO. CASE NEARS CLOSE

Final Struggle in Dissolution Suit Under Sherman Law Is Begun.

Arguments Being Presented in Case Filed Year and a Half Ago.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 3.—Opposing counsel entered the United States district court here for a final struggle in the government's suit to dissolve the International Harvester Company as a monopoly in violation of the Sherman law.

Members of the court gathered to hear final arguments in the case filed more than a year and a half ago. According to an announcement made this morning after the certificate and report of Special Examiner Robert Slater has been returned to the court, counsel for the government will occupy the entire day and possibly a portion of tomorrow's session in the presentation of arguments. It was indicated that the brief and argument of the defense might take one longer.

FORMIDABLE COUNSEL ARRAY.

Attorney General James C. McReynolds heads the government counsel. The harvester company has on hand a formidable array of counsel, led by Judge William D. McHugh of Omaha.

The brief of the government was written by the attorney general himself. Reciting the history of the harvester company in 1902, it alleged that the company has controlled since that time about 80 per cent of the trade in the U. S. in binders, mowers and other agricultural implements and prayed the court to grant an injunction against its further continuance. After asking for an injunction to insure the restoration of competitive conditions, the brief said:

"In order that the plan may establish a condition in honest harmony with the law, it is imperative that it shall disintegrate the business of the principals in such a manner that no two of the disintegrated parts shall be acquired by or come under the control of companies having common stockholders or companies otherwise under control or influence."

LIKE TOBACCO TRUST.

The government contends that the International company was formed for the sole purpose of taking over the interstate business of several companies engaged in selling harvesting implements and the plan was effected by the use of a combination and monopoly as was condemned in the tobacco trust case.

The steps preliminary to the organization of the harvester company were taken in June, 1902, according to the brief. John C. McFarland, who was secretary of the company, was then in charge. The company was organized by John H. Glensner and Wm. H. Jones, representing the principal harvesting companies, and George W. Perkins, then of J. P. Morgan & Company, determined to effect a combination. On July 23, 1902, four of the principal companies entered into identical agreements of transfer to W. C. Lane, president of the Standard Trust Company of New York, and McCormick and Perkins secured an option for a fifth company which afterwards was turned into the selling agency of the corporation.

HOW COMPANY INCORPORATED.

On August 12, the defendants incorporated the International Harvester Company in New Jersey with board powers and the capital stock of $120,000,000 was issued to W. C. Lane. The next day the brief declares, he delivered them to McCormick, Deering and Perkins, who had been chosen as voting trustees to run the harvester business of the new company, and who held the stock in trust for the individuals who had transferred their property to Lane. The property was immediately conveyed to the new company.

In course of time the three trustees issued stock trust certificates to persons entitled to stock in the new company and under the agreement made between the parties interested exercised all rights and powers of absolute owners of the stock for a period of 10 years.

By means of this voting trust, the brief alleges, the power to turn this business was lodged in the hands of a few men and J. P. Morgan & Co., and the McCormick and Deering families who own from 65 to 75 per cent of the companies' stock, have been in control.

Edwin P. Grosvenor, special assistant to Attorney General McReynolds, in opening final arguments for dissolution of the International Harvester company before the United States district court today asked for dissolution in such manner as to prevent effectively a possibility of two or more of the disintegrated parts coming into ownership of companies having common stockholders.

EAP SWALLOWED IN FIGHT, IS DECLARED

Evidence was introduced this morning that the left ear of John Wilson had strangely and mysteriously disappeared while Wilson was engaged in a fight in the Sixth street lockup with Peter B. Brett, better known as "Mexican Pete," a well known heavyweight prize fighter who met Sharkey, Fitzsimmons and other big men in the ring several years ago. The evidence was brought out in the preliminary hearing of a charge of

FUNERAL OF JOHN W. MOTT WILL BE HELD WEDNESDAY

MAYOR'S BROTHER DIED AT HOME

Had Been Under the Care of Specialists at Hospital.

Arrangements for the funeral of the late John Webber Mott, who was a member of the Assembly at the thirty-fifth and thirty-sixth sessions and formerly County Recorder, have been deferred until the arrival here tomorrow noon of his brother, Mayor Frank K. Mott. The obsequies will be held Wednesday. The hour and place will be decided by Mayor Mott.

The Mayor's brother was stricken three weeks ago and remained under the care of specialists at the Lane Hospital in San Francisco for five days prior to his removal to his Oakland home, 505 Fairbanks Avenue, where he died last evening at 6:20 o'clock in the presence of the members of his family. Death was not entirely unexpected.

During the past week he had been seriously ill but there was slight hopes held out for his recovery. He was the victim of kidney trouble, which was the cause of his death, which has come as a shock to this community, where he was held in the highest esteem. Both in professional and commercial circles he was very popular and leaves legions of warm friends to mourn their loss.

WAS CIVIC WORKER.

Forty-three years ago he was born in West Oakland and passed his entire life here. He was educated in the public schools of this city and was among the loyal boosters of this municipality. He was interested in all its civic movements and was active in politics.

After the death of the late A. K. Grim, who was County Recorder, Mott was appointed his successor and filled that office with marked efficiency. Prior to that time he served as clerk in Judge Samuel's court for eight years. During the past two years he had been engaged in the insurance and bonding business. He was successful in all his undertakings and was an indefatigable worker.

In fraternal orders he was widely known and beloved. He was president of Oakland Aerie of the Eagles until his demise.

He is survived by a wife, Laura Mott, a daughter, Colin Mott, his brother, Mayor Frank K. Mott, and three sisters, Miss Susie Mott, Miss Katherine Mott and Miss Nellie Mott, all of this city.

SHOOT TO CHECK STEERS; KILL MAN

Police Fire During Mad Rush of Animals in New York

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—In a fusillade of shots fired by police to check the mad rush of 18 steers which escaped from a railroad stock pen on the west side early today one man was killed and one wounded. George Beattie toppled from the seat of an express wagon when a stray bullet pierced his brain. Another bullet bored through the foot of Walter Vangerheim, a waiter. One steer crashed into an automobile truck, putting it out of commission; another bowled over a policeman, bruising him badly. One fled into Madison Avenue and was killed in front of the home of Cardinal Farley.

"HALF GUILTY" DEFENSE; FULL SENTENCE GIVEN

Plea of "half-guilty" was entered by Lew Mortimer to a charge of battery this morning, when his case was called for trial before Judge Mortimer Smith.

"That's an irregular plea," declared the court. "What do you mean by it?"

"Well, my wife was half guilty of this crime," answered Mortimer. "She started it."

"Did you strike your wife?" asked the judge.

"Yes, I'm guilty, I guess," responded the prisoner.

"Three months," ordered the court. The sound of weeping was heard from the row of benches at the rear of the court room. Investigation proved that Mrs. Mortimer, who had caused her husband's arrest, was weeping because of the severity of the sentence.

POLICE PROBE EXPLOSIVE CACHE

Apparatus of Dynamites Discovered Hidden in Old Barn.

Percussion Caps, Fuses, and Wire Terminals Among Grim Relics.

Discovery of dynamite percussion caps, fuse, electric wires, and terminals and switches for discharging dynamite or nitroglycerine, and a bunch of skeleton keys in an old barn near the home of Edward H. Davey, 144 Glenn Avenue, in the Piedmont district has led to an investigation by the police as to the origin of the mysterious cache. It is thought that the paraphernalia may have been secreted in the barn by a gang of yegmen and safecrackers, or that it might have been abandoned by some of the dynamiters who several weeks ago blew up the transformers and high power wires of the Pacific Gas and Electric company.

These wires and caps were found by Davey's son Ed, who informed his father of the find. Davey notified the police and Inspectors Thomas Gallagher and H. E. Green were detailed on the case this morning. They brought the outfit to the City Hall, where it will be closely examined.

Neighbors state that the old shed has been abandoned for some time. They declare they have seen no one either entering or leaving the place. The district is near the Fortieth street line of the Key Route, and would be a strategic point from which to operate in making overt attempts against the Pacific Gas and Electric company, or could be used as a safe hiding place for safecrackers operating in the Central Oakland district, as it could be easily reached by two car lines, and would also provide a speedy means of taking cover by hastening to San Francisco. It is also a location that would not attract attention.

The police believe from the appearance of the fuse and cap boxes that they have been abandoned for some time.

'HELP! SAVE MUH' CRY OF HOTEL'S PET LOBSTER

Curses! Maledictions! Sacre nom de Cochon! Fanchon, the beloved, is again in danger, and all because of a practical joke! The beloved lobster has no longer a distinguishing mark to preserve him from the boiling pot of the Hotel Oakland chefs, and Emory LaVallee is muttering dire threats against "Billy" Bercovich, he of gulleful heart and a sharp knife.

"Fanchon" is the most valiant lobster in the world, and the pet of the lobster tank at the hotel. LaVallee marked a large cross on his shell, that all might know he is immune. Daily he journeyed to the lobster tank to visit and feed his pet.

Yesterday Bercovich also made a visit to the lobster cellar. Curses! He took with him a sharp knife and cut crosses, identical with that on Fanchon's shell, on every lobster in the place.

Bercovich has not been seen around the hotel since, but LaVallee is waiting—waiting—and swears revenge. Fanchon is now in a tank by himself. To remain with the others with no distinguishing mark—marked among so many distinguishing marks, would mean death. Again, sacre nom de Cochon!

Will Route Scenic Trip to Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—That the best and most scenic trip from the grounds of the Panama-Pacific Exposition in San Francisco to Los Angeles and Southern California points may be selected and the trail blazed for the benefit of thousands of eastern motorists expected to the coast in the near future, a pathfinding car of the Automobile Club of Southern California will leave Los Angeles Thursday morning, carrying O. K. Parker, chief engineer of the club, who will route the course.

Parrot Warns Master, Then Perishes in Fire

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—By shrieking "Charlie" for several minutes early today, a parrot awoke its master, Charles Cordova, in time to enable him to save himself from a fire which destroyed his home. The parrot, swinging in a cage in the dining-room, was burned to death.

FIRST SERVICE HELD IN NEW CHURCH

The first public service for worship in the new St. Michael's Evangelical Lutheran church of Berkeley, located at Alcatraz and Benvenue avenues, was held yesterday at 11 o'clock. A large congregation was present to welcome the new pastor, Harvey Milton Leech, the retiring pastor of the First English Lutheran church of Oakland. The service was held in the Sunday school room, as the extensive repairs to the building had not yet been completed. However, the place of worship was made very attractive with flowers and shrubbery.

OREGON WOMEN TO VOTE.

PORTLAND, Nov. 3.—Oregon's women voters will participate tomorrow in their first general election. The referendum has been invoked against seven measures enacted by the last legislature. These include the workmen's compensation act, sterilization of habitual criminals and numerous appropriation measures. Governor West issued an appeal today for the support of the workmen's compensation act.

TEST CASE TO GAIN CONVICTS' PAROLE

Ruef, Dalton et al Await Outcome of Roberts' Case

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—Abraham Ruef, Henry P. Dalton, and many other prisoners of prominence in San Quentin Penitentiary will be affected should the Supreme Court decide in favor of Judge Carroll Cook in a suit to compel the Prison Directors to release James H. Roberts on parole, which was submitted in the Supreme Court here today. A test case is being made of the action, the contention being that a prisoner may apply for parole after he has been one year in the penitentiary. Cook contends that the directors must release him. Roberts has served fourteen months of a five year term and according to the previous ruling of the board he would not be eligible to apply for a parole for one year and a half. The matter is now entirely in the hands of the court for decision, but the Attorney General will have an opportunity of filing a brief within the next ten days.

High Tides Wash Away Dikes; Destroy Crops

WINDSOR, N. S., Nov. 3.—Immense damage has been caused by the recent high tides along the coast between Windsor and Grand Pre. Several miles of dikes have been swept away and large areas of valuable land are under several feet of water. Crops were ruined and highways so heavily washed out that they are impassable.

COL. IRISH CALLS REV. DR. AKED TO ACCOUNT

Editor TRIBUNE—Some of the leading Suffragettes, desiring to insult the wives and mothers who opposed them, called them "protected women." They wanted to say "kept women," and approached it as nearly as they dared. Dr. Aked, in a recent article, helps them out by getting a bit nearer the more accurate term. "Protected women" meant the women owned in a slightly different way from the others.

The "man of the world," is the man who does not agree with Aked. "The others," are the scarlet women. In view of such public teaching by a preacher, is it any wonder that the postmaster of one of our larger cities reports three score High School girls to be carrying on clandestine correspondence under assumed names? It is any wonder that they have been furnished by a San Francisco newspaper, with clerical and club women endorsement, the intimate details of the life of the scarlet woman, cunningly sprinkled by the lure of that life.

They have Dr. Ake's approval of stage plays that cannot be seen without destruction of modesty, and the same endorsement of those which carry the violation of the law against obscene literature. He addresses them and the public in the nude, he furnishes them food in "the altogether" for the subject of salacious thought. Is it any wonder that modesty passes, and clandestine correspondence is resorted to under the pressure of unrestrained nature?

In all ages and in every form of human society these results have followed these causes, and that they appear now on ment. It is all called reform. When it passes its pathway will be strewn with the wreckage it has made, and may be the Albatross Association with still to be made.

Rohan to Await Result of Leach Cross-Willie Ritchie Match

ALL-BLACKS TO ASSIST SCHAEFFER TO PICK TEAM TODAY

Final Test On This Afternoon at U. C. to Determine Final Line-Up.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Nov. 3.—The All-Black Varsity game which was called off on account of rain last Saturday will be played at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Coach Schaeffer will use the same line-up which was announced for last Saturday.

The match will really be between the All-Blacks and the second California Varsity. Schaeffer is not putting a first string fifteen into today's game because he does not want to run the risk of injuring the men who are almost sure to meet Stanford on Saturday. There are several men, however, concerning whose abilities he is in doubt and some whom he thinks need the additional experience which this game will afford. Most of these will appear in the line-up today.

W. W. Hill, who has come from Australia to referee the game next Saturday will get a little practice by officiating with the whistle in today's match. Following is the lineup which will represent California this afternoon:

Forwards: Meyer, Crane, Russell, Egan, Harty, Wacker, Lockhardt, Fish, Halfback: Montgomery, Five-eighths: Parrish, Campbell, Three-quarters: Hayes, Witter, Smith, Fullback: Engard.

SECRET PRACTICE PLANNED.

Coach Schaeffer had planned a Saturday afternoon of rugby for both his first and second teams and it was a disappointment for the entire team to have the weather interfere. After trying out a few of his men who are likely to be material for the first string, he put through the work after the spectators of the All-Black game had left the stadium.

Several important posts on the California team were retained. These are first of all fullback—for the job Bob Burdette has done so well in the shadow—are still in the running, center three, left wing, and front rank. With Sharp out of the running it looks as if "Pinker" Lane would play the center three-quarters position. But the coaches are not absolutely satisfied with Lane and it is possible that some other fifth round candidate may win the berth.

Stanford team has not yet hit its fighting trim. While the cardinal campus has been reconquering with the prowess of the great varsity backfield each opposing team has probably been the absence of the fighting spirit which has so marked the California team.

However, the team is subject to tenth hour slumps—they have them almost every year—which serve to arouse the campus and develop a fighting team.

Many places on the fifteen are still in doubt. Coach Brown's greatest problem seems to be in the finding of a full back worthy of the name. Since Ray Brown's enforced absence from the game numerous candidates have been tried out in the position. Andrews is the latest and the one who bids fair to win the place, but he is naturally a three-quarter and the thing of the fullback berth is something new to him.

With Carroll, Austin and Urban the backfield has three mainstays, but the second five-eighths position is giving the coaches trouble. Several candidates are being tried out, but none of them have yet filled the bill.

The Stanford scrum is practically made up, although changes in the side rank and lock positions are expected before the game. The cardinal forwards have not shown up to this year, being far behind the backs in both defensive and offensive work. However, these men are expected to come through this week and their fighting trim on the day when their services will be most in need.

TWELVE SPECIAL TRAINS WILL HANDLE CROWD ON SATURDAY

Twelve special trains will make the trip to Palo Alto next Saturday for the accommodation of those who wish to see Stanford and California clash on the Cardinal campus. The first special train will leave Third and Townsend streets, San Francisco, at 9:30 in the morning, and the others will follow as fast as a train can be filled. The last train will leave at 10 o'clock and will set there in plenty of time. The contest is scheduled to start at 2:30 o'clock. Electric cars will transport people to the football field from the station.

EACH VARSITY HAS WON THREE GAMES

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 3.—The Stanford and California meet on Saturday night on the football field in the nature of a "rubber" for both universities. Since the adoption of the "rubber" plan, the Cardinal and the Blue have been meeting three times, while the Blue and the All-Blacks have met twice.

Three intercollegiate games have been played in which rugby has been played. The first game was a tie, the second a win for the Blue, and the third a win for the All-Blacks.

BREEZY BITS by Billy Fitz

TOO BAD, TOO BAD: I lapped a fight promoter. Quite blue around the gill. And as I passed the time of day And boned from him a pill, I interrogated him thusly, Pray, dain to wise my thatch, Why did McSwish and Bill the Fish, Not consummate their match?

He would not slip the precious pill, Nor would he treat to Scotch. His spinning head he held instead— With one hand on his watch. And as he eyed me sadly, The tears began to fall: 'Tis pretty tough," said he (snuff, "I wise you to a rail."

"McSwish wants '35 at 10 o'clock. The other guy wants noon, With weight to be just '33 And tickets to the moon. Each one will fight for fifty thou And all the gate receipts, Providing I (he heaved a sigh) Will furnish all the cats.

"The dear old pub demands a fight; The puz demand the kale. And more than that, they want my hat. My overcoat and mail. And then he sadly muttered, As he sought a place to chow, "A fighter once was but a dunce, But he's a wise gink now."

The worst or best thing about the football season (depending upon whether you're a farmer or a sport ed) is the weather. An instance of collegiate originality is shown at Stanford, where 1000 students have conceived the brilliant idea of a bonfire to celebrate the football victory.

Of course, if there's no victory the mountain of wood will do for next year. Yale having been beaten by Colgate, we are now under the painful necessity of finding out who and what Colgate is. Hitherto we knew it only as a denificer.

Elmer Zacher has declined an invitation to circle the globe with the baseball tourists. Some one told Elmer that you couldn't get seasick while in sight of land, whereupon he said some fellows can't discover that crossing the old 2000 you saw land three days and didn't see it for 26.

Six clubs are necessary for every golfer, declares Outmet. And the same thing holds true for some ball players. Still they'd have to use them all at the same time to do any good.

UNTIL ETERNITY. There came into the magnate's room And old guy on the Fritz. He smole a smile And stroked the white Towels of whiskered "zit."

Said he I am a magnate, Perhaps you've heard of me. I used to bat .400 In the Adam League, B. C. The magnate dropped a big cheroot, Likewise his voice and eyes. And then he slipped a contract To the vet in a guile.

"Report to me in April," Said the magnate, "and don't fear; We've still got old Van Buren And dear old Pop Brashear."

PUGILISTIC LULL WILL PRECEDE NEW YORK MATCH

Local Promoter Wants to See How Gotham Match Will Turn Out; May Act Then.

By THE TIMEKEEPER. THERE was a marked lull in pugilistic affairs here today, with Promoter Rohan announcing that he would await developments on the Chavez-Campillo battle in Los Angeles tomorrow evening, and the Leach Cross-Willie Ritchie fight in New York on the 10th of the month. Rohan figures that in the event that Ritchie and Cross stage a sensational ten-round draw, the boxers might agree to hurry west and take each other on over the twenty-round route in San Francisco on Thanksgiving Day.

Rohan is willing to send Azevedo against Anderson for ten rounds, but figures the latter is too heavy for the younger boy to tackle over a twenty-round course.

Frankie Burns has gone into training at the Oakland Athletic Club for his fourth round bout with Johnny McCarthy, which will be the feature event at the Pavilion rink, San Francisco, Friday night. Frankie is being trained by Frankie Edwards and will enter the ring in his usual good condition. McCarthy is working at the Railroad club across the bay and reports from his camp state that Johnny is in grand fettle.

The boys have signed to weigh 135 pounds at 6 o'clock on the evening of the contest. This is Burns' best fighting weight and McCarthy declares he can make the notch and still be strong. Johnny has reduced from the welterweight limit to a light-weight by conscientious training and intends remaining in the 135-pound division. McCarthy boxed Kelly at 135 pounds ten days ago and was in the best condition of his career.

Tom Nikola, the local middle weight, will line up against Al Rogers and the fans should get plenty of action when this pair tangle. Both are terrific hitters and game as they make them. Nikola has been boxing in grand form and expects to add the Rogers' scalp to his already large collection. Rogers is the toughest party Tom has been called upon to meet since starting here.

Lee Johnson, the local colored lightweight, will meet Babe Picato, the globe trotter, in one of the special events, and Kid Exposito and Togo Watanabe will also get together. Dick Kendall vs. Dummy Thomas, and Joe Rolly vs. Kid Romeo are other attractive bouts on the card.

T. J. McCarey, prize-fight promoter, admitted in Los Angeles today that the announcement made by Joe Levy in New Orleans of a bout in Los Angeles Thanksgiving day between Joe Rivers and Leach Cross was correct.

"It has been practically arranged for some time," said McCarey, "but I had intended to wait until after Cross' fight with Champion Willie Ritchie in New York, November 10th, before announcing it."

"Cross will come immediately after his meeting with Ritchie to train for his match with Rivers."

Oakland @ Berkeley Play Tomorrow

The "big game" between Oakland and Berkeley high schools, which was scheduled for last Saturday and postponed because of the rain, will be staged tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 at the old Grove street ball grounds. Fifty-seventh and Grove streets.

What the Stanford-Berkeley game is to the two universities the Oakland-Berkeley game is to the high school students of the east bay region. Confidence runs high at both institutions and each team is trained to the minute for the coming fray.

A large crowd and plenty of enthusiasm is anticipated when the teams line up tomorrow afternoon.

CHUCKING PENNIES IS CHIEF AMUSEMENT OF JOE WOOD

Boston Speed Marvel Tosses Away $100 Annually by Way of a Joke.

"One of the most curious forms of amusement I ever heard of a ball player employing is the one used by Joe Wood, the Boston speed marvel," mused Jack "Actually, Joe throws away close to $100 in copper pennies. Why does he do it? Well, it's this way: Joe Wood is a natural born tosser. He's always trying to get somebody's pennies and if he can succeed he's just as happy as a kid with a pair of new boots.

"Joe's home used to be close to the New England conservatory of music. Boston, where hundreds of girls pass in and out every hour. Along about dusk, Joe would mount guard on his front steps with a pocket full of pennies, and when two or three girls would come tripping down the front steps of the conservatory, he would take a penny and give it to an underhand twist in their direction.

"Say, Joe Wood had the most marvelous control over a penny that you ever saw. He used to toss one half a block and make it fall right behind those girls. Of course, they'd hear the coin drop and imagine that one of their number had lost it. As it was dusk, they didn't always see the penny right away and there would be the usual consultation, examination of pocket books, exclamations, mad-dogging, etc., etc. Joe Wood used to be particularly tickled if he could drop a penny behind some girl who was accompanied by a dignified escort, usually some celebrated musician.

"On such occasions, he's let a whole handful go, and they'd be busy with exclamations and apologies for 15 minutes, while the professor sought a lantern, and the girl tried to imagine how it happened.

"Wherever he went, in the theater, in church, in trains, or just promiscuously on the streets, Joe was always up to the penny chucking stunt, and I don't think he was ever caught at it."

'BOSTON BUCK' IN HUFF REJECTS CONTRACT FOR 1914

O'Brien, Refused Transportation, May Turn to Stage for Livelihood.

BUCK O'BRIEN, the former Bostonese flinger, who was expected to constitute part of the material for next year's Oakland pitching staff, has bled himself away from the Pacific coast and is not likely to return. In fact, Buck has told the Oakland club management to go hang.

With a record of two victories and a sign in 1914 contract, Buck demanded big league salary, according to Devlin, and also wanted his transportation to Boston and return. Devlin undertook to enlighten O'Brien as to his real value, and, according to report, didn't mince his words. The result was that O'Brien packed up and departed in a huff, vowing to take to the stage and stay there.

O'Brien's theatrical contract calls for sixteen weeks in vaudeville on an eastern circuit. O'Brien will work alone in an act which will permit him to display his "baritone" voice. O'Brien contends that he can make more money behind the footlights than he can make facing batters, all of which may be perfectly true.

Herold Schwenk and Dwight Stone, the St. Louis hurlers who were tried out by Devlin and declared wanting, are complaining at the predicament they find themselves in. Both men understood, when they were sent to the Pacific coast that they had been purchased outright by the Oakland club, but now they learn that they revert to the St. Louis club, having only been sent out here on option.

They are unable to find out, despite many telegrams, whether St. Louis intends to give them their release, or whether they are expected to report in the spring to the training camp of the Browns.

Both pitchers would like to remain on the coast and try to catch on with some other club next year but they fear that the St. Louis management will keep a string on them and sell them to some minor league in the southern bushes, which will mean another change of climate and another long voyage.

Leavitt, Devlin and Cook are due in St. Louis tomorrow night. They expect to stay there two or three days before going on to Columbus.

Del and Mrs. Howard leave tomorrow for Chicago and other Illinois points. The Seal manager expects to get some assistance from Charles Webb Murphy, the Chicago Cub owner.

Danny Long is here as advance agent for the baseball tourists, who play their first game here November 13, a week from Thursday. Danny says it has been settled that the Sox will train next spring at Paso Robles.

BOOK DISPLAY TO OPEN THURSDAY

Exhibition Will be Held at the Home Club, Last 8 Days.

Several thousand books will be displayed at the second annual exhibition of American and foreign publications, which will be conducted by the Home Club, commencing Thursday evening and continuing eight days, in the art rooms of the Home Club in East Oakland. The phenomenal success of the book exhibition which was held last year at the Home Club, encouraged the committee to make the same display of works by the modern and standard writers. Oakland is second only to New York in the holding of book exhibitions, which have attracted lovers of fine art and publications for all classes of people. The Home Club of this city was the first and now is the only one in the United States. London was the first city in the world to conceive the idea of the book exhibition.

OPENS THURSDAY.
On Thursday evening the exhibit will open to members and their friends only and the following days it will be public. There will be an informal reception on that evening, when Dr. Edwin White, formerly classifier of books in the Congressional Library at Washington, will deliver a short address. He is now engaged in classifying the books in the library at the University of California in Berkeley. He is an authority.

Among the exhibitors will be many local and San Francisco publishers. The students of the John C. Fremont High School and the California School of Arts and Crafts will contribute book designs and book plates. Miss Ethel Moore has compiled a list of books for children, which will appear in the exhibit.

The illustrations of the various books will decorate the walls of the exhibition rooms. Mrs. Murray will also contribute Christmas cards and calendars, which have been artistically designed in an original color scheme.

METEORITE FALLS; SINGES EYEBROWS

Two Men Report Mass Almost Hit Them in Boston

BOSTON, Nov. 2.—A meteorite dropped into Craddock Park in Malden last night, nearly striking two young men who say the visitor from space passed within two feet of them. Both were thrown down and overcome by the flames from the white hot mass. The eyebrows of one were nearly singed off. The meteorite buried itself in the earth ten feet.

The young men are John McDonald and Frank Butler. In support of their statement the two point to the jagged mass in the hole in the park. Both complained of a violent attack of nausea. This, they thought, was caused by inhaling the fumes of the flaming mass. Both say they saw the meteorite some seconds before it struck the earth and thought it was an ordinary falling star.

Scientists of both Tufts and Harvard colleges were notified and will dig up the meteorite today for examination.

MEXICAN KILLED BY A POLICEMAN

Anti-American Sentiment Results in Fight in Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 2.—As an indirect result of what was said by the police to be a bitter anti-American feeling among the thousands of Mexicans in Los Angeles, Adolfo Moreno, a Mexican, was shot and killed here yesterday by Albert C. Staples, a policeman, who had been shot at by Moreno and four companions.

The officer was walking his beat in the Mexican quarter when he saw Moreno and four other men, all apparently intoxicated, crossing the street toward him. Suddenly one of the quintette fired at Staples. The bullet struck the body. Then he arrested J. Cortez, one of Moreno's companions, but the other three fled. A squad of officers then went through the Mexican quarter and took fifty Mexicans to the city jail, where they were searched for weapons. Thirty were released and twenty held for further investigation.

According to the police, hundreds of Mexicans for many months have made it a practice to throw stones and Sunday afternoon and nights at the Plaza, on the edge of Sonoratown at the Mexican district is called.

There speeches have been made in Spanish, urging attacks upon the police, while pamphlets bearing incendiary promptings have been circulated freely, the officers say.

Car Runs Into Sheep Flock and Kills 12

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—A Proctor car speeding along Railroad avenue on slippery rails this morning, ran into a flock of 100 sheep being driven to Butcher Town and killed 12. The motorist was unable to bring his car to a halt on the grade and despite the efforts of the cowboys in charge, the sheep crowded directly in the path of the oncoming vehicle.

TALE OF EGYPTIAN GOD OSIRIS TOLD IN LECTURE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—"Osiris, the Resurrected," was the subject of an illustrated lecture by Professor E. W. Gilmore at the Affiliated Colleges yesterday afternoon, and so many persons came to hear it that it was given twice, once at 3 and again at 4 o'clock, so all could be accommodated. The Egyptian room of the Museum of Anthropology was the scene of this talk on the Egyptian god of the dead.

Besides telling of Osiris' birth and how as King he brought the Egyptians from savagery toward civilization in 3000 B. C. of twenty-eight years, about 3000 B. C., Professor Gilmore told briefly of other Egyptian deities and the beliefs of the people concerning them.

The speaker's tale of Osiris was complete from the time the god was born, through his rule, the treachery of his brother in sealing him up in a coffin and having him thrown into the Nile, the search of his wife for the body, its later discovery by the brother and its cutting up into fourteen pieces, and the final reassembling of the body by the wife and the resurrection of the god after he had been buried three days.

WHEAT PRICES SENT UPWARD

Firmer Cables Are Responsible for Soaring Conditions.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Firmer cables today sent wheat prices upward. Opening prices were unchanged to higher than the previous close and a good buying spirit lifted quotations still more, but under realizing prices sank back to about the opening mark.

The close was easy, a shade to 1/4 cent net lower.

Light world's shipments also operated for an uptick in corn. First prices showed an advance of 1/4 to 1/2 cent, and there was a little further upward movement which later was partly lost.

The close was weak 1/4 cent to 1/2 cent net advance.

At the start the oats market was unchanged to 1/4 cent up.

Good demand lifted provisions, an advance of 1/4 to 1/2 cent marked the opening.

FRAIL WEAKLY CHILD

Made Strong by Vinol.

So many cases like this are coming to our attention for the benefit of fathers and mothers of weak, sickly, ailing children in this vicinity we publish the following letter:

Mrs. J. P. Weatherford, Litchfield, Ill., says: "We have had an invalid child for the past nine years and until we began using Vinol, we sometimes thought there was little hope for him. He would have terrible coughing spells at night, and they would leave him so exhausted. We tried everything, but to no avail. At last some one suggested that we try Vinol, and we noticed a change in him from the very first. The coughing spells ceased and he gained in strength right along. We would not be without it and would advise parents who have frail and weakly children to try Vinol."

This is because the Vinol neutralizes the strengthening cod liver elements and the tonic iron, that Vinol contains. No oil, delicious taste. Children love it. We give back your money if Vinol does not benefit. The Owl Drug Co., Oakland, Calif.

LOS ANGELES TO OPEN AQUEDUCT

Two-Days Celebration to Commemorate Finish of $26,000,000 Project.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—For one day next week—next Wednesday—this city expects to have most of its population transferred to the head of a valley twenty-three miles north to witness the spectacular last act of an eight-year job—the opening of the aqueduct which will let into the monster San Fernando reservoir the snow waters gathered from the slopes of the high Sierra, on the eastern rim of the state, and brought here 260 miles over desert and through mountains by the Los Angeles aqueduct.

There will be a two days' celebration—Wednesday at the reservoir and Thursday at a park where a $500,000 fountain will be dedicated to commemorate what the people of the city love to refer to as one of the greatest engineering achievements of the world. Conceived eight years ago, at a time when the city, then with a population of less than 200,000, was suffering a water famine, the plan of the aqueduct involved intricate engineering problems and questions of water rights, some of which are now in the courts of Italy country. Altogether it has cost more than $26,000,000, but its completion has brought to the city a water supply capable of furnishing approximately 250,000,000 gallons every twenty-four hours.

WHITE SLAVERY IS CITED AS A CAUSE

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—White slavery was given as one of the causes of millinery by Mrs. Emmaline Pankhurst, the British suffragist, in a lecture today to an audience, largely composed of women. She named numerous laws, which she said discriminated against her sex, as other reasons for the violent tactics adopted in England in the fight for "votes for women."

Members of the committee on arrangements, displeased because Mrs. Pankhurst's manager increased the price of stage seats from $1 to $1.50 after agreeing that no seat should sell for more than a dollar, kept their promise not to occupy chairs on the stage.

WOUNDED OFFICER KILLS ASSAILANT

Fatal Shooting Follows Closing of Salinas Tenderloin.

SALINAS, November 3.—Matt Thompson, a police officer of Salinas, after being shot and possibly fatally wounded by Ed Cook, a local bartender, whom he was searching for concealed weapons, drew his own pistol and fired two shots into his assailant, killing him instantly. The shooting occurred at 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning and was the aftermath of the closing out of the local tenderloin on November 1. Cook claiming that the officers were showing partiality. Officer Thompson had previously discussed the affair with Cook, and Cook then made a threat that he would shoot Thompson if he attempted to search him.

When the shooting was the result of where the bullet was removed. It had entered the left side and ranged downward and was removed near the hip bone. Cook wore a double vest chain from one upper pocket to the other, and Thompson's bullet struck one above and the other below the chain, both in the region of the heart.

SUICIDE DIVE FAILURE: WOMEN RESCUE MAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—Charles Olsen, formerly an employee of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad, decided yesterday that he would end his life. Had it not been for the timely interference of several women residents of this place, the man would have accomplished his purpose.

Olsen went down to the waterfront and took up a position on a float near the Northwestern Pacific dock. He had provided himself with a rock weighing thirty-five pounds. There was an end of a rope dangling from the float, the other end being connected up with the float's anchor.

Olsen tied the rock to the rope and then engaged his neck in a loop a short distance above the rock. The man and the rock then dived to the bottom of the bay, at this point ten feet deep.

Then the women appeared on the scene, having witnessed the attempted suicide. Three of them began to haul on the rope and brought Olsen and the rock to the surface. Olsen was then placed under arrest. He is repentant.

CHARLES G. GATES IS PAID LAST HONORS

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Funeral services for Charles G. Gates, the young millionaire whose hunting trip in the west terminated in his sudden death at Cody, Wyo., were held in the Madison Avenue Methodist church yesterday afternoon. The body was taken to Woodlawn cemetery, where it will rest in one of the vaults until the family mausoleum, designed to receive the body of the late John W. Gates, is completed.

There were thirty-six honorary pallbearers, including Charles M. Schwab, Allan A. Ryan, Frank A. Munsey, William T. Brown, Harry F. Black, William C. Hogg and others from Chicago, Denver, Portland, Minneapolis and other western cities who had come to New York to attend the funeral.

MINISTER REACHES SHANGHAI SHANGHAI, Nov. 3.—Dr. Paul S. Reinsch, of Madison, Wis., the new American minister to China, arrived here today. He was the guest of honor at a luncheon given by two hundred prominent Chinese.

NEW YORK DRYDOCK TO HOLD 1000-FOOT SHIP

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Aroused by port improvements elsewhere, particularly in Boston, the dock department of New York has decided on building a dry dock big enough to accommodate "forthcoming 1000-foot ships."

The dock will be located on the South Brooklyn waterfront. The project will cost about $2,500,000 and the dock department is confident that it will prove to be a self-sustaining municipal enterprise. When the space is not used as a dry dock, it will be convertible by simply flooding it, into a berthing space for general shipping.

Dock Commissioner R. A. C. Smith, in announcing the plan, says New York has been far behind the procession in port improvements, but that this will not be the case henceforth, as is evidenced by the present plan calling for a dry dock which will "surpass anything in the Western Hemisphere in this line."

DUKE AND DUCHESS ENTER BRUNSWICK

Drive to Palace in State Car. Crowded.

BRUNSWICK, Germany, Nov. 3.—Disagreeable weather failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the crowds here today for the state entry into Brunswick of the young Duke and Duchess of Brunswick, husbands known as Prince Ernest August of Cumberland and Princess Victoria Louise of Prussia. They drove from the station in a state coach drawn by eight horses through streets packed with people, who cheered them as they passed. The procession was led and followed by troops of cavalry.

At the palace the duke, after his new quarters had been presented read from the steps in the throne in the presence of members of the cabinet and of the deputies, a speech in which he again asserted his loyalty to existing conditions in the German Empire.

TRAVELERS CARRY LIQUOR AND CIGARS ACROSS LINE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Residents along the border between Canada and the United States who have been in the habit of making frequent trips across the line, will no longer be permitted to make traveling liquor and cigar stores of themselves in an effort to evade the American customs laws. The treasury department has taken cognizance of the fact that the same men travel repeatedly, returned with the permitted quart of liquor and a thousand cigars and cigarettes, which later, according to customs officials, were sold in this country.

The flourishing traffic caught the eye of a customs inspector in North Dakota, who issued a ruling as to how far the custom regulations could be strained in this direction.

The department did not hesitate. It was said only bonafide tourists were to be benefitted by the regulations.

WOULD BREAK RULE FOR PAROLED CONVICTS

SAN QUENTIN, Nov. 3.—A case involving the legality of the present parole system, as it applies to prisoners who are being returned to prison for parole violation, will come up here next Thursday when the habeas corpus proceedings of Henry Dobbins is heard. Dobbins, found guilty of murder thirteen years ago, was sentenced to life imprisonment, but his term was commuted to twenty years, and five years ago he was released on parole. In Los Angeles he was arrested and returned to prison for violation of the parole laws.

RITUAL MURDER CASE PERPLEXES JURORS

Witnesses for Prosecution.

KIEV, Nov. 3.—Counsel for the defense in the trial of Mendel Belis, charged with murdering the Christian boy, Yushinsky, have succeeded in preventing the prosecution from having the minutes read of previous cases dealing with alleged ritual murders.

The medical testimony having been concluded, the sitting today began with the hearing of theological witnesses, among whom only one upholds the views of the prosecution, namely, the priest, Father Prannites, whose evidence already to a great extent has been refuted by the Vatican authorities.

Among other experts to be heard is Professor Kokoroff, a relative of the Russian Premier. A long list of abstruse questions concerning ritual murder was put to the theological experts, neither of whom gave any answer which is comprehensible to the jury, which is composed of peasants and small shopkeepers. The list included such questions as:

"By what did the Jews replace the victim in the case of the First Born sacrificed to Jehovah?"

Another question was, "According to the interpretation of the Talmud and the Cabala, is it out of duty, which is mostly held to issue with the blood?"

While Father Prannites was testifying he mentioned Christ, whereupon the president of the court declared that the name of Christ only could be mentioned when the court was sitting behind closed doors. Prannites contended that the execution of the Christians was the main object of the existence of the Talmudists.

FOOTBALL COACH WILL NOT LEAVE MINNESOTA

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 3.—President George E. Vincent of the University of Minnesota, who was in Seattle last night, said there was no chance of Gilmore Dobie, football coach at the University of Washington, being called to Minnesota to take the place of Dr. D. L. Williams.

President Vincent pointed out that Dr. Williams' contract had two years to run and added "Coach Williams is giving entire satisfaction."

The question of Dobie's succeeding Williams was brought up through an announcement on Williams by the Northern Minnesota alumni association at Duluth last week. Dobie's contract with Washington expires this year. Although it has been rumored that he would go East next year, he has declined to discuss his plans.

MAN WALKS ABOUT WITH FRACTURED SKULL

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—Walking around with his skull so badly fractured and shattered that death was imminent, was the unusual experience of John Dixon, an elevator operator, who fell down the shaft of an elevator in the Hotel Apartments at Mission and Eleventh streets, Saturday night. Dixon, believing that he was simply dazed, went to his home at 259 Capp street. Yesterday morning when he awoke, he walked to the Central Emergency Hospital and told Dr. W. A. Sampson that he wanted a bump on the side of his head examined.

The doctor hurried Dixon into the surgical ward. He will probably be operated on by Dr. Alanson Weeks.

LAUNCH GOES ASHORE ON COLUMBIA SPIT

ASTORIA, Nov. 3.—As the gasoline launch Kaka was entering the river, about 1 o'clock yesterday morning, she got out of the channel and ran on to Clatsop spit, inside the jetty, where she is high and dry at low tide. The launch belongs to the Kake Packing Company, and was returning from southeastern Alaska with a cargo of 350 cases of salmon as ballast. She was built here last spring and cost approximately $6000. The cargo and machinery probably can be saved, but it is feared that the hull will be a total loss.

CHILDREN'S PLAYGROUND ON ROOF OF HOTEL

A playground on the roof of the Hotel Oakland, for the benefit of the little ones at the hotel, is an innovation which will be installed by Manager Victor Retter. The playground will contain sand piles, swings, and all the little features which add the children in passing time. A matron will be in constant attendance. Work on the new feature will be started at once and the place will be ready for the children within a month.

TO ELECTRIFY RAILWAY. BERNE, Switzerland, Nov. 3.—The Swiss government is providing for the expenditure of $7,600,000 for the electrification of the St. Gothard railway. This, it is said, will be the first step in the electrification of all the Swiss national railways.

HIS STOMACH TROUBLES OVER. Mr. Dyspeptic, would you not like to know how you could eat any kind of food you desired without injury? That may seem so unlikely to you that you don't stop to think of a remedy for your trouble, but permit us to assure you that it is not altogether impossible. If there can be cured permanently, and thousands have been cured, not you? John C. Ware, of Battle Creek, Mich., is one of them. He says, "I was troubled with heartburn, indigestion, and liver complaint until I used Chamberlain's Tablets, then my trouble was over." Sold by Osgood Bros. Drug Store.

DEATH MYSTERY; PROBE PLANNED

Youth Stricken Friday May Have Been Poisoned, Is Feared.

SAN JOSE, Nov. 3.—An exhaustive investigation is being made by the authorities into the cause of the death of Frank Bonnet, an employee of a San Jose firm, who was stricken early Friday and died twenty-four hours afterward, apparently from poison. Dr. N. H. Bullock, Dr. P. A. Jordan and Dr. F. S. Ryan, all of whom attended the man, were unwilling to sign a death certificate.

On Thursday evening Bonnet, in company with Miss Henrietta Wineman, his fiancée, a member of a wealthy family in San Luis Obispo county, went to the home of J. T. Corpstein, an uncle of Bonnet, to demonstrate a car from the house in which the young man was employed. Late in the evening Bonnet and the young lady had a light supper and

During the early morning hours of Friday he was taken suddenly ill and after being attended by friends at his boarding place, Dr. N. H. Bullock was called. He prescribed for the young man and was called again early Friday morning, when he found Bonnet sinking. Dr. Jordan and Dr. Ryan were also called to make an examination of the young man's throat, which was giving him intense pain. They were unable to administer relief and before noon Bonnet was dead.

Thinking it possible that ptomaine poisoning might have been the cause, Police Chief Frank Ross started an investigation today, but reached no definite conclusion in this direction. The theory was also presented that Bonnet might have taken the poison knowingly, but there is apparently no basis for this supposition.

FEARING BLINDNESS, MERCHANT KILLS SELF

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 3.—Edward A. Jacobs, part owner of clothing store here, shot himself through the head with a 22-caliber revolver this afternoon because he feared impending blindness. He was dead when found. He left farewell notes to his sister, his attorneys and a friend.

Jacobs had arranged with A. Weinstein, connected with the store, to meet him at the store at 2:30 o'clock. When Weinstein arrived he failed at first to find Jacobs, but a search of the balcony, used as a tailor shop, revealed the body.

Jacobs had told friends that an affection of his eyes was giving him trouble, and that he feared he would soon lose his sight. This, he said, would be worse than death.

Jacobs left a note for his sister, Mrs. Pauline Prager, with whom he had been staying, and another addressed to A. S. Ash, 947 Lake street, San Francisco, which was not opened. He also left a request that Ash be promptly notified of his death.

Bitter Mayoralty Campaign in New York Ends

BULLETIN. NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Eugene D. Wood, the politician sought by District Attorney Whitman as a witness today at the John Doe investigation into the alleged Tammany corruption made by John A. Hennessy, could not be found this afternoon. Friends said he was out of town.

Hennessy, chief campaigner against Tammany Hall in the municipal campaign, testified last week that it was Wood who gave him most of the material for his charges.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—New York City's bitter mayoralty campaign entered on its last day today. Closing speeches of candidates will be made to-night and tomorrow voters will decide whether Edward E. McCall, Tammany or John Purroy Mitchell, the fusion nominee, shall be mayor.

William Sulzer, deposed governor, seeking to return to the Assembly as a Progressive, published today letters and telegrams purporting to show that McCall offered to get Charles F. Murphy the Tammany leader, to stop the impeachment trial, provided Sulzer would endorse McCall's candidacy for mayor and stop the inquiries looking to the exposure of Tammany corruption.

The letters and messages in question bear the purported signature of Fred Feigl, one of McCall's campaign managers.

ACTIVITY AGAINST SULZER. There was renewed talk today that Sulzer's enemies would seek his indictment in Albany county for subornation of perjury in connection with alleged attempts to suppress testimony before the high court of impeachment.

WARDEN TO QUIT SAN QUENTIN

J. E. Hoyle to Lay Down Position; On Way to San Francisco

Expected to Make a Statement About Determination

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—John E. Hoyle, warden of San Quentin, left early this morning to come to San Francisco, and is expected to make a statement later about his contemplated resignation. President Duffy of the board of prison directors, left here for San Jose early this morning to try a case there. Several of the other directors expressed great surprise that Hoyle should contemplate resigning. General Tirey L. Ford had not heard of it until today.

"I had not the slightest intimation that Warden Hoyle contemplated resigning," he explained. "He has always been a most intimate friend of President Duffy, and I have heard Governor Johnson speak well of him. This must be a personal matter between Hoyle and Duffy. I have not the slightest idea who would be his successor. We have considered only one and it was my belief that Hoyle would remain. It is true that there was some difference among the prison directors as to the vote and censuring Captain Ellis regarding discipline at the prison but that is as far as the matter went."

SONTAG LESS SURPRISED. Less surprised was Charles Sontag, another member of the board. "I did not know that anything like this was coming," he explained. "But I cannot say that I did not look for it. President Duffy is an independent kind of a man and says just what he thinks. Hoyle and he may have had some falling out. I did not vote to re-elect Warden Hoyle last June. I found that Directors Duffy, Neumann and zero were favorable to him, and as there were only four directors present, I stayed out and did not vote. We have not thought of a successor to Hoyle and nothing whatever has been done in that regard."

The appalling treatment of Beilis has awakened the resentment of humanity. It has been

WATER CO. RECOVERS TAXES

Alameda County Loses Spring Valley Suit for $88,000

Assessments 1911-12 and 1912-13 Must Be Refunded

Through a decision rendered this morning by Superior Judges W. S. Wells, W. H. Waste and E. J. Brown, sitting en banc in the case of the Spring Valley Water Company against the County of Alameda, the court will have to repay $88,000 collected in taxes on riparian rights and land holdings belonging to the water company in Washington and Pleasanton townships being the assessments for the years 1911-12 and 1912-13. The jurists held that the assessments were void on the face of the proposition in that there had been a double assessment.

District Attorney Hynes, who with Deputy Walter J. Burpee, defended the suit, stated that an appeal would not be taken. According to Deputy Burpee, the money is now in the hands of the county treasurer where it has been held for many months upon advice of the district attorney that the suits in all probability would go against the county.

"The finances of the county will not be crippled," said Burpee. "It has been known for a long time that the assessments were undoubtedly illegal and that the taxes paid in would have to be returned. They were paid under protest in the first place."

HISTORY OF ASSESSMENT. The assessment for the year 1911-12 was made by former County Assessor Henry P. Dalton. It covered in blanket the entire holdings of the water company, including the riparian rights along business creeks. The company contended that the assessment was illegal in that both the land and the riparian rights thereto could not be assessed. When Assessor Horner went into office, the first year he made the assessments in accordance with the method he found in vogue so that the assessment for the year 1912-13 involved the same contention on the part of the water company against paying the taxes.

Taking his cue from the suits brought by the water company upon advice of the district attorney, Assessor Horner changed the method of assessment for the year 1913-14 assuming the attitude that the taxes for last year had not been paid and then doubling the assessment. This step was anticipated by the water company, which will have to be returned to the Episcopal church, and Rev. Frank L. Goodspeed, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. It is expected that resolutions will be drafted and copies sent to the Czar of Russia.

Speaking of the meeting several prominent citizens expressed themselves as follows. SHOULD EXPOSE INHUMANITY. Arthur Shafer—"It will be a benefit to humanity, especially to Judaism and the world, to expose the inhumanity of Russia."

TO ENLIGHTEN WORLD. Fred Kahn—"I think these meetings are necessary to enlighten the world regarding the means Russia is taking to persecute the Jews. If this trial is prolonged until the early part of 1914 it will give the government a pretext for the massacre of the Jews."

PAPERS IN POSSESSION VALUABLE

A. M. Thompson, Former State Union Head, Disappears

Left Home Announcing He Would Visit San Jose

MYSTERY enshrouds the disappearance of A. M. Thompson, former president of the State Federation of Labor and well-known in labor and political circles throughout the State, who left his home at 1314 Filbert street early Tuesday morning and has not been locally seen or heard from since.

It was the original intention of Thompson to go to San Jose, where he intended to transact some business with Congressman E. A. Hayes of that place. Important negotiations believed to have been in connection with valuable California oil lands, with the Noyes Ranch Oil Company of San Francisco and Congressman Hayes as principals and with Thompson acting as representative of the oil company, were to have been consummated upon Thompson's arrival at San Jose, and for this purpose Thompson carried with him valuable documents.

It is understood that these papers were of great importance, not only to the two principals mentioned, but also to several other parties. The fact that Thompson was not inclined to the use of intoxicants and that he carried but enough money on his person to make the round trip to San Jose, brings up the rumor that he has been spirited away for the purpose of breaking off the negotiations between the San Francisco oil magnates and the San Jose Congressman.

HOPEFUL ABOUT DEAL. According to Mrs. Thompson, wife of the missing man, her husband was in the best of spirits when he left home Saturday morning for San Jose. "This deal is almost as good as closed," he told his wife, "and is one of the biggest transactions I have pulled off in many a day."

"He was very cautious in handling a packet, which he declared contained papers of vital importance," said Mrs. Thompson this morning. "I have to be mighty careful of these," he said to me, "for if they get into other hands they might do great harm." However, he did not seem to be very disturbed over the chance of their being lost, and when he left he remarked that he would be home not later than Thursday."

Amos W. Broughton, general manager of the Noyes Ranch Oil Company, and a business associate of Thompson, living at 1568 Waller street, San Francisco, stated this morning that he could throw no light on the sudden vanishing of Thompson. He also refused to discuss the nature of Thompson's trip.

HELD IMPORTANT POSITION. Thompson was formerly president of the State Federation of Labor. He was also at one time business agent of the Central Labor Council of Alameda county and was a deputy assessor under Henry P. Dalton until the latter's removal from office. He is 52 years of age, weighs 155 pounds and is 5 feet 8 inches in height. At the time of his disappearance he was attired in a gray suit and gray overcoat and wore a black derby hat. His hair is light red, streaked with gray, while his mustache is of the same color.

The police of the entire state are searching for Thompson, but up to a late hour today their efforts had been ineffectual. The police advance the theories that either Thompson has become the victim of foul play or has become suddenly demented and is wandering about the State. A better theory is not given much consideration.

AMERICAN AUTHOR IS DEAD. "I don't understand Mr. Thompson's disappearance," sobbed Mrs. Thompson this morning. "We had planned several events for the 15th of this month and Mr. Thompson just before the left laughingly remarked that he'd be ready for the big time."

PATIENT IN HOSPITAL SUICIDE

Wealthy Man Sends Nurse Away, Cuts Throat

Isaac Anderson, Locomotive Ataxia Sufferer, Ends Life.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—After sending his male nurse from the room at a hotel at 5 o'clock this morning, Isaac Anderson, a retired rancher, man of wealth and member of the Union League club, committed suicide at the St. Francis hospital.

Anderson had been suffering from locomotive ataxia and had been a patient at the hospital for about a month. His night nurse, J. Sheldon, was watching over him when he awoke. He talked casually for a few minutes and then declared that he was hungry. Sheldon asked him what he wanted and the patient replied that some beef tea would just suit him. The nurse was gone just three minutes and returned to find Anderson with his throat cut from ear to ear. He had slashed himself with a small penknife, used for manicuring his nails. The house physician was called in, but nothing could be done to save the man's life.

Anderson had large interests in Oroville where he was associated in business with Dr. Clyde Payne, a prominent local dentist.

"I did not notice anything strange about Mr. Anderson," said Sheldon. "He had never threatened suicide."

Anderson was 61 years old. He resided at the Union League club during his frequent trips to San Francisco and was well known in this city.

PASTOR EXPLAINS BIBLICAL 'HELL'

London Divine Addresses Porter Hall Audience On Purport of Scripture.

A good-sized audience assembled in Porter hall last evening to hear Pastor E. D. Sexton of London, England, speak on the "Hell" of the Bible. There was the closest of attention during the hour that the speaker considered his subject, which he said has been greatly misunderstood. He stated that he had no startling remarks or any sensational announcements to make, only that he intended to take the question up from the Scriptural standpoint. Many Bible quotations were used during the discourse. Among other points, the pastor declared that the dead are dead just as the Bible says they are; that all are asleep in the state of death, the tomb, the Bible "hell," and that they are to await God's due time when He shall bring them all forth in the resurrection, both the just and the unjust. The willing and the obedient shall have everlasting life, but the wilfully wicked shall be destroyed. The "hell" of the Bible, the speaker said, is the Greek word "hades," and that these words have also been rendered grave and pit, the place or condition where all the millions of Adam's race have been since they died. None have ascended into heaven or descended into eternal torment, for "death is the wages of sin." "No man has ascended up into heaven, but he that came down from heaven, even the Son of Man."

The speaker said that the word "hell" as found in the Bible, comes from the Hebrew word "sheol," and the Greek word "hades." And that these words have also been rendered grave and pit, the place or condition where all the millions of Adam's race have been since they died. None have ascended into heaven or descended into eternal torment, for "death is the wages of sin." "No man has ascended up into heaven, but he that came down from heaven, even the Son of Man."

OGDEN FINANCIER'S HOME WRECKED BY EXPLOSION

OGDEN, Utah, Nov. 2.—Following the receipt of blackmail letters demanding $1000 from the widow of David Eccles and her sons, the home of Leroy Eccles, a member of the family was dynamited at 1 o'clock yesterday morning, the explosion wrecking the front of the residence and seriously damaging the properties of Dr. H. M. Rowe, president of the Weber Club and Mayor's candidate in the city election on Tuesday and Fred G. Taylor, general superintendent of the Amalgamated Sugar Company.

Since April prominent residents of Ogden have been receiving blackmail letters and large amounts were given by Thomas L. Deu and Mrs. Ralph E. Bristol to these writers for them. For several months the Eccles homes, several in number, have been under guard, but the private detectives were withdrawn two days ago.

Leroy Eccles considers that the dynamiting was simply a warning of further efforts of the blackmailers. The damage was from $2000 to $3000.

JACK LONDON DEFENDANT IN ATTACHMENT SUIT

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—Jack London, the prolific writer, whose home in Glenn Ellen was recently destroyed by fire, was made defendant in an attachment suit for $215 filed by the C. and N. The arrangements for the employment of the firm were perfected by Mrs. Eliza Shephard, London's sister, and an announcement has been made that more suits are to follow.

Dress Reform, in a Hurry Land in Bloomers--Never!

Knicker-Bockers Barred She Had to Don Mere Skirt

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Maggie Teyte is the latest exponent of dress reform—that is, she has reformed her dress. As a consequence she now wears a dress and has discarded the bloomers which she used to wear to starting the immigration officers to wondering and finally resulted, on her arrival in America, in her being sent back to her state-skirts before she could come ashore. Maggie wept, expostulated—and then donned skirts. These she now wears and all is well.

The little singer, arriving in New York, proceeded to trip gayly down the gang plank attired in knicker-bockers and a hat.

At the same time a large tramp steamer, like a phantom, was sighted coming down the bay. Although Captain Durkee burned blue lights and gave other signals there was no answer from the strange ship.

NOT A SOUL IN SIGHT. Captain Durkee said: "There was not a living soul on the deck or bridge and there was nobody on the lookout. We did what we could to avert a collision and by quick work we passed under full sail barely a biscuit's toss away."

On the way from Carthage to Adelaide Captain Durkee turned all hands to chipping the rust from the skin of the steel winged ship. One of the smallest lads on the bark chipped so hard with his pick down in the fore peak that he scraped a hole through the plate and the Atlantic came gushing in so furiously that the men were kept at the pumps regularly for four hours a day until the ship reached port and was repaired.

ENTER HOME AND ENCOUNTER THUG E. R. Erdman and Wife Halted by Leveled Revolver; Burglar Escapes.

In an encounter with a burglar who surprised in his home last night, E. R. Erdman, 455 Edwards street, was thrown against the wall and slightly injured, while the man, who had leveled a revolver at Erdman and his wife, escaped by dashing past the couple to the street door of their home. The man had ransacked the place, obtaining jewelry valued at $50, and his wife returned home last night and started to enter the house. In the hallway they encountered a man, masked and carrying a revolver.

"Throw up your hands," the intruder commanded. Erdman obeyed but Mrs. Erdman started to scream. The thug rushed at Erdman, hurled him backward against the door, and dashed down the stairs, making his escape in the darkness.

Patrolman Rusher, who lives across the street from the Erdman home, heard the commotion and joined in the chase. The thug was not seen.

O, SEE WHAT NEW YORK PRODUCES! Beats All Other States for Natural Gas: $2,500,000 Worth.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Last year, according to estimates prepared by the United States Geological Survey, New York state produced more than eight and one-half billion cubic feet of natural gas, valued at nearly $2,500,000. At the same time consumption for the year was nearly 17,000,000,000 cubic feet valued at nearly $5,000,000 at an average price of 28.75 cents a thousand cubic feet. The difference was piped into the state from the Pennsylvania fields.

The greater amount of this vast consumption is used for domestic purposes, it being estimated that the amount so used being more than 15,000,000,000 cubic feet. The industrial consumption amounted to only one and a half billion cubic feet.

Mysterious Vessel Almost Collides With Four-Master.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Although the day of the sailing ship is nearly over there lies at a Brooklyn dock today a four masted bark just in with a log of unusual adventure. The vessel is the Annie M. Reid and according to the captain she has had a most remarkable record of 270 miles a day for four days in succession.

The bark logged 10,000 miles in 36 days from Montevideo to Adelaide. At dusk one day in the midst of a calm a sudden squall came up, carrying down with it the ship's sail.

At the same time a large tramp steamer, like a phantom, was sighted coming down the bay. Although Captain Durkee burned blue lights and gave other signals there was no answer from the strange ship.

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR O'HARA HOBO UNIONIST

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Barrett O'Hara, lieutenant-governor of Illinois, is a hobo. It became known yesterday when E. Jeff Davis, president of the National Hobo Union, reported the fact in an address at a meeting of the Chicago Federation of Labor. Later O'Hara admitted it and announced that he is proud of the connection.

"I met the lieutenant-governor at a ball," said the king of the hoboes, "and he told me that once he had been down and out. I told him that entitled him to membership and I pledged him. The lieutenant-governor was given a number, a road sign and a badge, but will be expected to make at least one trip on his own resources before he will be acknowledged a real bo. The oath taken by O'Hara pledges that he will do all in his power for unemployed workmen, will never be a strike-breaker and will always return home every runaway boy he meets."

"Yes, I joined the hoboes," said Lieutenant-Governor O'Hara. "I took the oath, although I never expect to ride in a side-door Pullman."

LOST OAKLAND GIRL IS FOUND

Wandered From Home Worn Out From Exposure.

More like a bedraggled wood-nymph than a human child, wet, hungry and exhausted, yet still trying to elude loving searchers, seventeen-year-old Lucile Lawrence ended her third day of wandering yesterday by fainting into her father's arms within sight of the Moraga valley.

The light romping costume of bathing skirt and bloomers, stockings, sandals and middy blouse she wore when she left, half in rags from the clutch of tearing branches, clung to a shivering form when her father, after a sixty-hour search, took his daughter in his arms and carried her back to warmth and comfort.

No explanation would the girl give. She explained neither her sudden flight into the woods nor her fawn-like desire to hide from the people she knew were looking for her.

Friday and Saturday night she spent in deserted cabins erected by Peoples Water Company employees when the system was being installed. Here she found scant shelter from the rain and cold and huddled into a corner covered by the remnants of moldy blankets left by original occupants years ago.

INCLINED TO ERRATIC PERIODS. The girl, with her grandmother, Mrs. Nellie J. Lawrence, went to the country home on Wednesday. The girl was out of health and inclined to erratic periods, caused by long years of solitude since the death of her mother. It was for this reason that her father removed her from school at Modesto two weeks ago. It was for the same reason that he sent her to his Moraga valley home Wednesday.

Alvin Hauschild found the girl which finally led to the girl's discovery. He came upon the footprints left by the sandal-shippers worn by Miss Lawrence. They led in all directions over the hills, but they led to no one place. The trail was confused, although the footprints were obviously made after the rain stopped early this morning.

DODGES INTO BUSHES. The posse again split up. Each was taking one of the trails. Harry Hauschild, who was scouting about the brow of a hill near the busenolow, spied the girl a fourth of a mile from him. He shouted at her and she dodged into a clump of bushes. He ran to the spot, but she had disappeared.

Alvin Hauschild, who was on a horse, saw the girl five minutes later. She was almost half a mile from where his brother had seen her. She had been running and was standing, exhausted. She did not see the youth and he wheeled his horse and returned to the main body of searchers. Dr. Lawrence followed him. When he saw his daughter he gave a shout of joy. She looked up, but did not move. She tottered and fell as he came up to her and fainted in his arms.

Best Cough Medicine for Children.

"I am very glad to say a few words in praise of this medicine," writes Mrs. Lida Dewey, Milwaukee, Wis. "I have used it for years both for my children and myself and it never fails to relieve and cure a cough or cold. No family with children should be without it. It gives almost immediate relief in case of croup." Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is pleasant and safe to take, which is of great importance when a medicine must be given to young children. Chinese Doctors Make Special $4 Offer to Discouraged Sufferers

To Convince, Doctors Chan & Kong offer a Week's Trial Treatment For Less Than Herbs Cost

To prove to all sufferers that the Chinese system of medicine will do more in giving quick relief and permanent cures than any other medical science (so-called) which permits the use of poisons, Doctors Chan and Kong will this week give a full seven days' treatment for the sum of $4.00. This amount is not enough to pay for the herbs used, but as in that time they can demonstrate what they can do in even the most desperate cases, they are willing to make this never use poisons, believing that if poisons will breakdown strong constitutions they will do great harm to people run down and weakened by sickness.

Call at once and take advantage of this offer. What has been done for others can be done for you. There are a few who have been cured. Original letters and hundreds of others waiting your inspection at the offices of Doctors Chan and Kong, 301 Clay street, Oakland.

The patient will be required to call every day to take their herbs and to put himself under the orders of the doctors, as the doctors do not wish to put their time at the disposal of any but those who are earnestly seeking health.

The herbs used are in all cases included in the cost; that is, $4.00 pays for everything and there are no extras. These herbs have a food value in addition to their wonderful soothing and curative powers, and are entirely different from the medicines in common use in America. The Chinese

Heiress, Once Driven From Home, Returns to Claim Relics.

LIVERMORE, Nov. 3.—Accompanied by her husband, Mrs. J. H. Willumsen, heir to the estate of the late Alexander Duvall, the heiress, Mrs. J. H. Willumsen, returned to the home from which she had been driven fifteen years ago by an irate father. It was the first time since her expulsion from her childhood home that she had cast eyes on the place, her experiences after leaving her father's home being the east. After inspecting the house and those several of the most prized possessions, and made preparations for the disposal of the remainder.

When Duvall died and his estate was turned over to the public administrator, Dr. H. B. McHenry, for settlement, the county sold a portion of the movable property, but, in anticipation of the time when the missing heir might be located, he reserved many of the heirlooms and family keepsakes, silver dinner service, valuable library and other things which he retained in the house.

TO SELL MOVABLE PROPERTY.

The land and buildings will not be sold until next spring, but a sale of all remaining movable property will be held immediately. Mrs. Willumsen and her husband will return to their home in Chicago within a few days with some $50,000 which has already been realized from the settlement of the estate.

As Mrs. Duvall, only child of Alexander Duvall, soldier of fortune, adventurer and owner of the Chateau Bellevue vineyard and winery, Mrs. Willumsen was driven from home by her father when she married Thaddeus Stevens against her father's wish. She soon divorced Stevens and was lost to the knowledge of her friends and family for fifteen years.

When her father died last spring without leaving any will, a nationwide search was instituted for the daughter, and she was located in Chicago as the wife of J. H. Willumsen, an attorney, and she came at once to California to claim the estate, which is variously estimated at between $150,000 and $250,000. Valuable accounts in Eastern banks have not been appraised and the total value of the Duvall fortune is not known.

Good Time Now For Blood Health

Energies Are More Keen and Respond Quickly to Help.

Let S. S. S. Help You to Health.

If you are down with rheumatism; if you sneeze, feel chilled, are choked with catarrh, have a cough, or your skin is pimply and irritated with rash, eczema, or any other blood disorder just remember that all the ills of life come from impure blood. And you can easily give your blood a good thorough cleansing, a bath by using S. S. S. There is no need for anyone to be dependent over the illness of blood impurities. No matter how badly they attack the system, they can be broken down, the skin, just remember there is one ingredient in S. S. S. that so stimulates the cellular tissues throughout the body that each part selects its own essential nutriment from the blood.

This means that if delay, all breaking down of the tissues is checked and repair work begins. S. S. S. has such a specific influence on all local cells as to preserve their mutual welfare and afford a proper relative assistance to each other. Much attention is being given to scientific medicine than ever before and S. S. S. is the highest achievement in this line. For many years people relied upon Mercury, Iodine, Potash, Arsenic, "Physic," Cathartics and "Dope" as remedies for blood sickness, but now the pure vegetable S. S. S. is the only safe and effective blood purifier.

DIVIDED OVER STREET PAVING

Two Factions Formed On Account of Melrose Improvement.

MELROSE, Nov. 3.—A misunderstanding, which is now on the way towards satisfactory settlement, in regard to street improvement, has created two factions in Melrose. One faction has circulated a petition calling for the improvement of a portion of East Fourteenth street, while another section of the community sent out an opposition petition against the relaying of the road. Residents in the district were bombarded for and against improvement with literature, and things up to the present have the appearance of developing into a struggle between two strong sections of the community.

Melrose Business Men's Association espoused the cause of those who sought street improvement and the petition in favor of this work has been circulated broadcast and is said to be making progress. The opposition petition was also circulated. That there should have been opposition to the improvement was stated today to have been due to a misunderstanding. While it was proposed to have East Fourteenth street relaid from High street to Fifteenth avenue, residents beyond Fifteenth avenue had an idea that the improvement work was to take in their portion of the street up to Fifty-fourth avenue. They were opposed to this step and at once started opposition. Just when things were beginning to get warm between the two factions an explanation that only up to Fifteenth avenue is to be relaid has apparently proved satisfactory to the opposition and those who have circulated the petition calling for the street work are confident that the majority of the residents will favor the improvement.

Who Are Blocking License Reform?

Last Friday the new liquor ordinance after being smoothed out and certain defects eliminated, was introduced in the Council and laid over for a week. There was no action and no discussion. It was given out that hearings would be given all parties interested when the ordinance was again taken up. Apparently it is purposed to once more go over ground that has been already gone over three or four times and fritter away a lot of time in futile discussion as a pretext for delaying action.

Patience has ceased to be a virtue. It has been worn out by procrastination and indirection. The conviction has been forced on the public mind that certain members of the Council are mere agents of the saloons in this business. They are striving to prevent anything being done. It is not the public welfare, but the liquor interests they are serving. All their objections and amendments are echoes from the saloons. It is the saloons, and the most disreputable of the saloons at that, they are engaged in protecting.

While obstructing the passage of the ordinance they are trying to pull its teeth and render it innocuous if not inoperative—a mere shadow and pretense of reform. They have hoped that public sentiment would become tired out and cease to urge reforms that are obstinately resisted and staved off on one pretext or another. It is to the saloons, not the people, that these men are giving their service. All their utterances indicate that they regard themselves as representatives of the liquor interest and are legislating for the benefit of the saloons.

But these officials are mistaken in the public temper in supposing that the people can be tired out by inaction, procrastination and subterfuge. The people will not allow themselves to be played with much longer. They are determined to have action—action that means something worth while. If they are compelled to resort to the initiative to sweep away obstruction, they will get rid of obstructionists at the same time. They will not permit agents of the saloons to administer laws to restrict and better regulate the liquor traffic.

Furthermore, the scope and purpose of the reform demanded by the Public Welfare League will not be abated one jot. The number of saloons must be reduced to two hundred, the license raised to $1000 a year and all saloons driven out of the residence districts; and the reduction must not take place later than July 1, 1914. For four months this formulated plan of license readjustment has been before the Council. It has been viewed and discussed from every angle and standpoint. There is nothing new to discuss or consider. We find today the same element in op-saloon. Every concession made by the Public Welfare League has been met with a demand for fresh concessions. The saloons are resisting reform of the liquor traffic at all points, and in reality are seeking to have Oakland made a wide-open town instead of consenting to a better regulation of the whisky business. It is notorious that the liquor interests will spend money lavishly to block reform, and is not particular how the money is spent. Agents of the liquor traffic have been threatening political vengeance on members of the Council who dare vote in accordance with the wishes of the people and the canons of decency. At the same time the solid support of the liquor men is promised officials as a reward for defying public opinion.

That is how the situation stands today. The issue is between the home and the saloon. Should the saloon prove stronger with the Council, the home will compel a show of hands at the polls, and in that event obstructionists will have to go with obstruction.

The time for farcical hearings has passed. Their purpose is only too clearly understood. Delay in the hope of wearing down the advocates of license reform is the sole purpose. It is a policy dictated by the saloons. Every member is as well qualified to vote tomorrow on the ordinance as he ever will be. The efforts made to stave off and prevent action are made by opponents of the ordinance. In the last analysis the ordinance is being held up at the instance of the Royal Arch.

The Influence of Suggestion.

The influence of suggestion on the mania for homicide is illustrated by several recent occurrences in Oakland and San Francisco. The killing of her husband by Mrs. Brown bears a marked similarity to the slaying of De Valle by his wife. Perhaps the imitation was unconscious, but it nevertheless bears the impress of being suggested. Probably Mrs. De Valle's deed developed an inchoate feeling in Mrs. Brown's mind that took the form of resolution when the De Valle uxoricide was bruited in the public prints.

The case of Leah Alexander in San Francisco follows in general outline the shooting of R. M. Widney by Vivien Lyons. It indicates the operation of involuntary suggestion on the subconscious mind. One woman shoots a man against whom she cherishes a grievance. Another woman having a similar grievance does likewise. It is imitation in obedience to suggestion.

We see the same thing illustrated in cases of suicide. The newspapers print the story of a suicide committed in some peculiar way or under sensational circumstances, and straightway there are other suicides resembling the first, showing the influence of suggestion.

This is a fact that is not taken into consideration by people who think that moral lessons are taught by such plays as "The Lure" and "The Traffic." The effect is the precise reverse of good. If suggestion prompts people to kill themselves and others, why should it not prompt persons morbidly inclined to do things less tragic but equally bizarre. It does, in fact. Seeing brothel life depicted on the stage engenders a desire to see what it is like in real life; also a longing to imitate the actors in such dramas.

Mrs. Pankhurst now contends that her admission into the United States gives her the right to circulate literature so frankly indecent that its circulation was prohibited in England. She brought over editions of the Suffragette containing articles dealing with sex questions which Anthony Comstock and the police officials declare come under the head of obscene literature. She has put these publications on sale by having young women brought over from England peddle them. The sale has been stopped by the authorities and freedom in the person of Mrs. Pankhurst shrieks as it did when Kosciuszko fell.

"Is the smell of liquor the test of Democracy?" asks the Nashville Tennessean. It may be the test of Democracy in some States, but it is not the test of good citizenship anywhere. Horace Greeley once said the two cardinal tenets of Democracy were "love rum and hate niggers," and the Democrats pleaded guilty to the indictment by nominating Horace for President. But times have changed since then. The Democrats have elected a total abstainer to the Presidency, and his cabinet is strongly flavored with teetotalism. Everywhere the smell of whisky is going out of fashion as the perfume of politics, although some people in Oakland seem to think the people spoken of in the Declaration of Independence and the National Constitution is to be translated to mean exclusively those engaged in the sale and manufacture of intoxicants. Such persons stand upon Brother

They have yet to learn that the liquor business can be conducted in an orderly and decent manner. It may perhaps be necessary to employ drastic discipline to teach them this much.

Contradictions of Trade.

The cross and counter-currents of trade are often confusing and present phases so contradictory that one is perplexed to draw general conclusions without inquiring into the special reasons for each movement.

During the tariff debate one Senator opposed to reducing the tariff on butter cited government reports showing that a large quantity of butter was annually imported from Canada to the United States, from which he argued that lowering the import duty would greatly injure the American dairy industry.

So it looked till somebody examined further. Then it transpired that a much larger quantity of butter is shipped from the United States into Canada than comes here from Canada. Each country is both an exporter and an importer of the same product. Canada is a good dairy country, but the winters there are very severe. In the summer when butter is cheap Canada ships butter to the United States. In winter when butter is dear and the Canadian pastures are blanketed by deep snows, the United States ships butter to Canada. So there's a substantial reason for the contradiction.

A few days ago the White Star liner Baltic reached New York with a large consignment of refrigerated beef from Argentina on board. This beef had been shipped to Liverpool from Buenos Aires and brought thence to New York. Strange to say, the bulk of the Argentine beef was consigned to Swift & Company, the Chicago meat-packers.

As the Baltic was coming through the Narrows she passed an Atlantic Transport liner bound for Liverpool carrying 200 head of American beef cattle to England. Those cattle were shipped from Chicago. Here we have the anomaly of America shipping cattle on the hoof to Liverpool while importing beef in cold storage from Argentina via Liverpool.

If one studied only the outgoing trade returns he would form an opinion diametrically opposite to a conclusion drawn from an exclusive study of import figures. Much of the opposing clash of opinion in tariff debates is due to a partial and one-sided study of trade movements; also to failure to examine the underlying causes for apparent contradictions which are not contradictions at all when understood.

The other day one hundred tons of butter arrived in San Francisco from New Zealand. The same day the wholesale price of butter went up a cent a pound. Without looking at the market reports some would say bringing butter from the Antipodes was injuring the home butter makers. Others noting the contemporaneous rise in the price of butter would say that reducing the tariff on foreign butter does not affect the price of butter to the consumer. Yet it does, and paradoxically has little effect on the prices domestic producers receive for their butter. The price of butter always advances at this season of the year. But for the New Zealand shipment, the price of butter would have gone up two or three cents a pound. The depression due to foreign competition is there, although not perceptible to the casual observer.

But why does it not materially affect the domestic producer? one will naturally ask.

Because the stock of butter on hand is mainly held by dealers in cold storage. It has been bought or contracted for months ago for the season of shortage that inevitably occurs each year.

not affected, save in a few instances, by the rise and fall of prices. When the injury to the producer is being complained of, be sure it is not the voice of the middleman and the speculator that you hear. He is ready to take either the side of the producer or consumer, but what the middleman is always fighting for is a condition that will best enable him to get between the producer and consumer and cinch each by turns.

THE LATEST!

While free competition and open markets may not appreciably lower existing prices, they prevent prices being forced up and monopolistic conditions being created. Shipping beef to England is no argument against importing beef from Argentina. Reciprocal trade is a good thing, and free competition is a better.

On Fourth avenue Friday night a man on foot was knocked down and badly injured by a motor car. His leg was broken and he was hurt otherwise so seriously that he lay for some time unconscious in the rain. The driver of the car sped on without stopping to offer assistance or to inquire how badly the man was hurt. The incident is typical. Recklessness begets inhumanity and cowardice. We do not offer any opinion as to who was responsible for the accident, but we do not hesitate to say that when a man in an automobile runs a pedestrian down and flies away to escape detection he thereby creates the presumption that he was at fault. Aside from that, he shows himself to be heartless and cowardly. It was criminal to leave a smashed and broken man lying in the rain. It is a crime that should be severely punished by law. One way to stop this kind of thing would be for the Legislature to pass an act forbidding any man who runs another person down and does not stop to give his name or offer assistance to set up the plea of contributory negligence if sued for damages. If the law should treat flight as proof of culpability in cases of accident there would be fewer incidents to record of the character of the one on Fourth avenue. The man who ran away deserves to be lashed through the town at a cart's tail.

A VANISHING RACE

Charles W. Elliot, president-emeritus of Harvard, says that there is a lack of power and vitality in the American people which the immigrants possess; that they have, for example, the power of reproducing their own kind while ten classes of Harvard graduates failed to reproduce themselves. The generations that follow the immigrants are Americanized and do not have large families, but the change in the racial stock of the country must be very great if not very important. It is noticeable in the cities and in the country also. Forty years ago Chicago was a city of American stock with the principal additions from Germany, Ireland and the Scandinavian countries. It has taken in many foreign nationalities since then and the percentage of persons of remote American ancestry must have greatly decreased. There are country districts in which the American farming communities have disappeared to give way to people from north, central and southern Europe. In certain places one people will be predominant, but taking the country as a whole there is great variety.

so that there is no solidarity whose influence is generally felt. It is a fact also that the tendency toward small families is not confined to the highly educated classes. It is common among all classes of Americans who desert those elements that the immigrants take up. So we might speak of the Americans as a vanishing race if the immigrants did not become American. But a declining birth rate is not peculiar to this country, and it is not at all likely to be checked by lamentations over the disappearance of any stock—Chicago Record-Herald.

Wherever four drunken men get together a male quartet is organized. One thing prohibition in the south has done is to cure the negroes of the liquor habit; they demand cocaine instead, and insist on having it.

The celebrated Baptist pulpit orator, F. H. H. served for years as a policeman at Traders before entering the ministry—and it is his proud boast today that he has arrested more sinners and rescued them from the clutches of the law than any other man in the city.

"They don't call your association the Amalgam club any more." In Mexico "general election" seems to be an alias of Gen. Huerta's.

What the World Is Doing

Now they have the "gizely" mania. Even in sober Pennsylvania. They "bunny hug" from Galveston to Maine. "Turkey trot" in California. Or the golden girls will scorn you; in Maine the "Texas Tommy" is at home. The wriggling hula hula. That belongs to Honolulu. Has most completely captured gay Paree; In the basin of the Congo. They are practicing the tango. And, perhaps I'd better mention, so are we! Those wild Cambodian dances. The "Vienne" entrances; They are learning the fandango in old Cork. The Dutch are highland flinging. The Scots are buck and winging. And the German hop is hopped in staid New York. 'Tis a world confederation. When nation bows to nation. And begs the latest dancing fads to scan; And thus we beat the devil. With a Bacchanalian revel. The satirical parliament of man! —Anonymous.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS

A few split leg drags driven rapidly through the highway department might help some. One report says a bomb blew up the Volturno and another that a cigarette started the fire. No difference. Story of Russian explorers who claim to have found a new continent north of Siberia seems truthful. They saw only one green sun. Had they seen two, an analysis of the vodka in their first-aid kits would have been ordered instantly. The class for criminals continues in New York. The board of education has hopes of landing more teachers who have become mothers contrary to orders. "We want more green things," is a New York paper's appeal. Mystifying slump in the supply of "come-ons" no doubt.

MADE STRONG BY VINOL.

So many cases like this are coming to our attention for the benefit of fathers and mothers of weak, sickly, ailing children in this vicinity we publish the following letter:

Mrs. J. P. Weatherford, Litchfield, Ill., writes: "We have had an invalid child for the past nine years and until we began using Vinol, we sometimes thought there was little hope for him. He would have terrible coughing spells at night, and they would leave him so exhausted. We tried everything, but to no avail. At last some one suggested that we try Vinol and we noticed a change in him from the very first. The coughing spells ceased and he gained in strength right along. We would not be without it and would advise parents who have frail and weakly children to try Vinol."

This is because the child needed the strengthening cod liver elements and the tonic iron that Vinol contains. No other medicine can do this. Children love it. We give back your money if Vinol does not benefit. The Owl Drug Co., Oakland, Calif.

LOS ANGELES TO LOS ANGELES TO OPEN AQUEDUCT

Two-Days Celebration to Commemorate Finish of $26,000,000 Project.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—For one day next week—next Wednesday—this city expects to have most of its population transferred to the head of a valley twenty-three miles north to witness the spectacular last act of an eight-year job—the opening of the floodgates which will let into the monster San Fernando reservoir the snow waters gathered from the slopes of the high Sierra, on the eastern rim of the state, and brought here 350 miles over desert and through mountains by the Los Angeles aqueduct.

There will be a two days' celebration—Wednesday at the reservoir and Thursday at a park where a $500,000 fountain will be dedicated to commemorate what the people of the city love to refer to as one of the greatest engineering achievements of the world. Concealed eight years ago, at a time when the city, then with a population of less than 200,000, was suffering a water famine, the plan of the aqueduct involved intricate engineering problems and questions of water rights, some of which are now in the courts of Inyo county. Altogether it has cost more than $26,000,000, but its completion has brought to the city a water supply capable of furnishing approximately 250,000,000 gallons every twenty-four hours.

WHITE SLAVERY IS CITED AS A CAUSE

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—White slavery was given as one of the causes of militancy by Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the British suffragist, in a lecture today to an audience, largely composed of women. She named numerous cases, which she said discriminated against her sex, as other reasons for the violent tactics adopted in England in the fight for "votes for women."

Members of the committee on arrangements, displeased because Mrs. Pankhurst's manager increased the price of stage seats from $1 to $1.50 after agreeing that no seat should be sold for more than a dollar, kept their promise not to occupy chairs on the stage.

WOUNDED OFFICER KILLS ASSAILANT

Fatal Shooting Follows Closing of Salinas Tenderloin.

SALINAS, November 3.—Matt Thompson, a police officer of Salinas, after being shot and possibly fatally wounded by Ed Cook, a local bartender, whom he was searching for concealed weapons, drew his own pistol and fired two shots into his assailant, killing him instantly. The shooting occurred at 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning and was the aftermath of the closing out of the local tenderloin on November 1. Cook claiming that the officers were showing partiality. Officer Thompson had previously discussed the affair with Cook and Cook then made a threat that he would shoot Thompson if he attempted to search him.

The shooting was the result. The officer was taken to the hospital where the bullet was removed. It had entered the left side of his chest.

SUICIDE DIVE FAILURE: WOMEN RESCUE MAN

SAN SALITO, Nov. 3.—Charles Olsen, a diver of the Northern Pacific Railroad, decided yesterday that he would end his life. He had been for the timely interference of several women residents of this place the man would have accomplished his purpose.

Olsen went down to the waterfront and took up a position on a float near the Northwestern Pacific dock. He had provided himself with a rock weighing thirty-five pounds. There was an end of a rope dangling from the float, the other end being connected up with the float's anchor.

Olsen tied the rock to the rope and then encased his neck in a loop a short distance above the rock. The man and the rock then dived to the bottom of the bay, at this point ten feet deep.

Then the women appeared on the scene, having witnessed the attempted suicide. Three of them began to haul on the rope and brought Olsen and the rock to the surface. Olsen was then placed under arrest. He is repentant.

CHARLES G. GATES IS PAID LAST HONORS

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Funeral services over Charles G. Gates, a young millionaire whose hunting trip in the West terminated in his sudden death at Cedar-Wash., were held in the Madison Avenue Methodist church yesterday afternoon. The body was taken to Woodlawn cemetery, where it will rest in one of the vaults until the family mausoleum, designed to receive the body of the late John W. Gates, is completed.

There were thirty-six honorary pallbearers, including Charles M. Schwab, Allan A. Ryan, Frank A. Munsey, William T. Brown, Harry F. Black, William C. Hogg and others from Chicago, Davenport, Minneapolis and other western cities who had come to New York to attend the funeral.

MINISTER REACHES SHANGHAI SHANGHAI, Nov. 3.—Dr. Paul S. Reinsch, of Madison, Wis., the new American minister to China, arrived here today. He was the guest of honor at a luncheon given by two hundred prominent Chinese.

NEW YORK DRYDOCK TO HOLD 1000-FOOT SHIP

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Aroused by port improvements elsewhere, particularly in Boston, the dock department of New York has decided on building a dry dock big enough to accommodate "forthcoming 1000-foot ships."

The dock will be located on the South Brooklyn waterfront. The project will cost about $2,500,000 and the dock department is confident that it will prove to be a self-sustaining municipal enterprise. When the space is not used as a dry dock, it will be convertible by simply flooding it, into a berthing space for general shipping.

Dock Commissioner R. A. C. Smith, in announcing the plan, says New York has been far behind the procession in port improvements, but that this will not be the case henceforth as is evidenced by the present plan (aiming for a dry dock which will "surpass anything in the Western Hemisphere in this line.")

DUKE AND DUCHESS ENTER BRUNSWICK

Drive to Palace in State Coach; Streets Are Crowded.

BRUNSWICK, Germany, Nov. 3.—Disagreeable weather failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the crowds here today for the state entry into Brunswick of the Duke and Duchess of Brunswick. The Duke, known as Prince Ernest August of Cumberland and Princess Victoria Louise of Prussia. They drove from the railroad station to the palace in a state coach drawn by eight horses through streets packed with people.

The procession was led and followed by troops of cavalry. As the duke and duchess entered the palace, the duke was greeted by members of the cabinet and of the deputies, a group in which he is associated with his family to existing conditions in the German Empire.

TRAVELERS CARRY LIQUOR AND CIGARS ACROSS LINE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Residents along the border between Canada and the United States who have been in the habit of making frequent trips across the line will no longer be permitted to make traveling liquor and cigar stores of themselves in an effort to evade the American customs laws. The treasury department has taken cognizance of the fact that the same travelers repeatedly returned with the permitted quart of liquor and a thousand cigars and cigarettes, which later, according to customs officials, were sold in this country.

The flourishing traffic caught the eye of a customs inspector in North Dakota who asked for a ruling as to how far the export regulations could be strained in this direction.

The department did not hesitate. It was said only bona fide tourists were to be benefited by the regulations.

WOULD BREAK RULE FOR PAROLED CONVICTS

SAN QUENTIN, Nov. 3.—A case involving a violation of the present parole system as it applies to prisoners who are being returned to prison for parole violation will come up here next Tuesday when the habeas corpus proceedings of Henry Dobbins is heard. Dobbins, found guilty of murder thirteen years ago, was sentenced to life imprisonment, but his term was commuted to twenty years, and five years ago he was released on parole. In Los Angeles he was arrested and returned to prison for violation of the parole laws.

RITUAL MURDER CASE PERPLEXES

Jurors Hear Conflicting Testimony From Theological Witnesses for Prosecution

KIEV, Nov. 3.—Counsel for the defense in the trial of Mendel Beilis, charged with murdering the Christian boy, Yushinsky, have succeeded in preventing the prosecution from having the minutes read of previous cases dealing with alleged ritual murders.

The medical testimony having been concluded, the sitting today began with the hearing of "theological" evidence. The witness only one upholds the views of the prosecution, namely, the priest, Father Demetrius, whose evidence already to a great extent has been refuted by the Vatican authorities.

Professor Kokorov, a relative of the Russian Premier, a long list of questions concerning ritual murder was put to the theological experts, neither questions nor answers apparently being comprehensible to the jury, which is composed of peasants and small shopkeepers. The list included such questions as:

"By what did the Jews replace the victim in the case of the First Born sacrificed to Jehovah?"

What portion of the body, according to the interpretation of the Talmud and the Cabala, is it out of which the soul is really held to issue with the blood?"

While Father Demetrius is testifying he mentioned Christ, whereupon the president of the court declared that the name of Christ only could be mentioned when the court was sitting behind closed doors. Prosnitsky contended that the extermination of the Christians was the main object of the existence of the Talmudists.

FOOTBALL COACH WILL NOT LEAVE MINNESOTA

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 3.—President George W. Vincent, of the University of Minnesota, who was in Seattle last night, said there was no chance of Guillermo Dobie, football coach at the University of Washington, being called to Minnesota to take the place of Dr. D. L. Williams.

President Vincent pointed out that Dr. Williams' contract had two years to run and added "Coach Williams is giving entire satisfaction."

The question of Dobie's succeeding Williams was brought up through an attack on the part of the Northern California alumni association at Dumbarton last week. Dobie's contract with Washington expires this year. Although it has been rumored that he would go East next year, he has declined to discuss his plans.

MAN WALKS ABOUT WITH FRACTURED SKULL

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—Walking around with his skull so badly fractured and shattered that death was imminent, was the unusual experience of John Dixon, an elevator operator, who fell down the shaft of an elevator in the Marion Apartments at Mission and Eleventh streets, Saturday night.

Dixon, having taken a lift at 250 Capp street, yesterday morning, when he arose, he walked to the Central Emergency Hospital and told Dr. W. A. Sampson that he wanted a bump on the side of his head examined.

The doctor hurried Dixon into the surgical ward. He will probably be operated on by Dr. Alanson Weeks.

LAUNCH GOES ASHORE ON COLUMBIA SPIT

ASTORIA, Nov. 3.—As the gasoline launch Kake was entering the river, about 1 o'clock yesterday morning, she got out of the channel and ran on to Clatsop spit, inside the jetty, where she is high and dry at low tide. The launch belongs to the Kake Packing Company, and was returning from southeastern Alaska with a cargo of 350 cases of salmon as ballast. She was built here last spring and cost approximately $5000. The cargo and machinery probably can be saved, but it is feared that the hull will be a total loss.

CHILDREN'S PLAYGROUND ON ROOF OF HOTEL

A playground on the roof of the Hotel Oakland, for the benefit of the little ones at the hotel, is an innovation which will be installed by Manager Victor Barker. The playground will contain sand piles, swings, and all the little features which aid the children in passing time. A matron will be in constant attendance. Work on the new feature will be started at once and the place will be ready for the children within a month.

TO ELECTRIFY RAILWAY

BERNE, Switzerland, Nov. 3.—The Swiss government is providing for the expenditure of $7,600,000 for the electrification of the St. Gothard railway. This, it is said, will be the first step in the electrification of all the Swiss national railways.

HIS STOMACH TROUBLES OVER

Mr. Dreyer, would you not like to feel that your stomach troubles were over, that you could eat any kind of food you desired without injury? That may seem too unlikely to you that you do not even hope for an ending of your trouble, but here we tell you that it is not altogether impossible. If others can be cured permanently, and thousands have been, why not you? John R. Barker, of Battle Creek, Mich., is one of them. He says, "I was troubled with indigestion, and liver complaint until I used Chamberlain's Tablets, then my trouble was over." Sold by Osgood Bros. Drug Store.

DEATH MYSTERY; PROBE PLANNED

Youth Stricken Friday May Have Been Poisoned, Is Feared.

SAN JOSE, Nov. 3.—An exhaustive investigation is being made by the authorities into the cause of the death of Frank Bonnet, an employee of a San Jose firm, who was stricken early Friday and died twenty-four hours afterward, apparently from poison. Dr. N. H. Bullock, Dr. P. A. Jordan and Dr. F. S. Ryan, all of whom attended the man, were unwilling to sign a death certificate.

On Thursday evening Bonnet, in company with Miss Henrietta Weinman, his fiancée, a member of a wealthy family in San Luis Obispo county, went to the home of J. T. Corsteln, an uncle of Bonnet, to demonstrate a car from the house in which the young man was employed. Late in the evening Bonnet and the young lady had a light supper and returned to the city.

During the early morning hours of Friday, Bonnet was stricken while on his boarding place. Dr. N. H. Bullock was called. He prescribed for the young man and was called again early Friday morning, when he found Bonnet sinking. Dr. Jordan and Dr. Ryan were also called to make an examination of the young man's throat, which was giving him intense pain. They were unable to administer relief and before noon Bonnet was dead.

Thinking it possible that ptomaine poisoning was the cause of the death, Police Chief Frank Ross started an investigation today, but reached no definite conclusion in this direction. The theory was also presented that Bonnet might have taken the poison knowingly, but there is apparently no basis for this supposition.

FEARING BLINDNESS, MERCHANT KILLS SELF

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 3.—Edward A. Jacobs, part owner of a clothing store here, shot himself through the head with a 22-caliber revolver this afternoon because he feared impending blindness. He was dead when found. He left farewell notes to his sister, his attorneys and a friend.

Jacobs had arranged with A. Weinstein, connected with the store, to meet him at the store at 2:30 o'clock. When Weinstein arrived he found the first to be Jacobs, but a search of the balcony, used as a tailor shop, revealed the body.

Jacobs had told friends that an affection of his eyes was giving him trouble, and that he feared he would soon lose his sight. This, he said, would be worse than death.

Jacobs left a note for his sister, Mrs. Pauline Prager, with whom he had been staying, and another one addressed to A. S. Ash, 947 Lake street, San Francisco, which was not opened. He also left a request that Ash be promptly notified of his death.

"I think Musterole is fine to rub on anywhere. Where there are occasions to use mustard in any form, Musterole is much better in every respect than the mustard plaster. I shall now keep it on hand for ready use at any time."—J. G. EMERY, M. D., South Waterborough, Maine.

"I am using Musterole in my own case. Been down with grippe for past two weeks and it has caused bronchial trouble. I find this loosens up the tubes and gives me much relief, so I am sure it is a good thing."—Prescribing it here and in Philadelphia. I got several people here interested; now they keep it constantly in the house."—ELIAS WILDMAN, M. D., Haddon Heights, N. J.

The Telephone a Community Builder

A TELEPHONE system, like the street cars, is an aid to the city's growth and suburban development. It makes it convenient for the city-employed man to live in the suburbs or country.

"Handy to business" now means a pretty suburban residence or a home in the real country.

Factories are built where land is cheap.

The population of the over-crowded cities flows out into the country, relieving unsanitary conditions and improving the general health of the community.

The telephone has brought the city and country closer together.

The Bell Telephone system is aiding in the upbuilding and growth of 70,000 communities, and giving impetus to the "back-to-the-land" movement.

Every Bell Telephone is a Long Distance Station
